Roll-over booth to be at county fair

By Karen Krien

The St. Francis Fire Department is sponsoring the Kansas Highway Patrol's simulated roll-over booth at the Cheyenne County Fair on Friday. "We felt like it was important that people see what could happen if they are in a roll-over accident and they are not wearing a seatbelt." Chief George Harper said.

There is no cost to watch the roll over and it could save a life.

The fire department is focusing on the importance of parents putting children in safety restraints. Some crushed between the adult and the of the facts are:

TUMBLEWEED ROUND-UP— Phil Crawford will be performing at the Cheyenne Theater on Aug. 6.

Cowboy singers and poets perform

By Karen Krien organized St. Francis' Tumand musicians along with "just plain story tellers." The production will be held at 2 p.m. and at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 6, at the Cheyenne Theater on Washington Street, St. Francis.

Mr. Crawford reports that there will be a number of performers including the Highway 385 Blue Grass group out of Colorado. The band has performed all over the state of Colorado and will be one of the main performers at the Wednesday Round-up.

Among the other performers tentatively planning to come to the Wednesday shows are: Ernie Ketzner, poet from Bird City; Fred Krien and Ferdinand Krien playing their "squeeze box" and guitar; Don Love, guitar and sing; Gary Cooper, poet; and Fred Magley, poet.

"We will have good, homespun entertainment and it is free," Mr. Crawford said.

People are welcome to come for all or part of the performances.

"We have a "swinging door policy" where people can come and go at their leisure," Mr. Crawford said.

area, attending other cowboy poet and music shows for the last years. For the last five years, he has performed in the Valentine, Neb., show which is the largest such show in the United States. In fact, the St. Francis show is similar to the Valentine show. "I've patterned the St. Francis show after the Valentine show," he said. Recently, Mr. Crawford was invited to host sessions of the Montana Cowboy Poetry Gathering, Lewistown, Mont., Aug. 15 through 17. He will also be a performer. "I plan to go to Lewistown... I think, being an out-of-towner, it (hosting) is one of the highest honors I could receive," Mr. Crawford said. The Tumbleweed Round-Up has been supported by a number of businesses. For more information, contact Mr. Crawford at 785-332-2367 or go to StFrancisKs.com.

Phil Crawford has been playing the guitar since he was 9 years old.

"I was in the hospital and a nurse taught me to play and I've been laying ever since," he said.

He is also a poet and writes the lyrics to his songs. Following is one of the newest songs and he will be performing it at the Wednesday performance held at the Cheyenne Theater at 2 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Montana Slim He sat tall in the saddle, While hazing the cattle, Spring roundup was about to begin. This rangy ole cowpoke, Never a cross word he ever spoke, And his troubles he took with a grin.

He hailed from Montana, Wore a big red bandana, And a hat that was mostly all brim. His jeans were quite faded, A shirt that was jaded, and old boots that were made just for him.

His chaps seen their best, And he wore a buckskin old vest And gloves that were nearly worn through. But look at that saddle,

That he sits a straddle, He has been traveling in the It shines like it did when brand new. His horse is a buckskin,

But, you knew it had good kin, It's lines were those of the best. Was bred to chase cattle, With a man in the saddle. Strong legged and wide in the chest. He could ride with the best, And he roped with the rest. He tamed a wild stallion or two, But when it came time, For life more sublime, He returned to the old Circle U. He rode for the brand, Was the round-up's top hand. He knew all the ways of the range, But as time went on, The old days were gone, His old West was a makin' a change. His days are now numbered, His reflexes encumbered, His eyes are beginning to dim. If you want to hear a story of the old West in it's Glory. Just ask Old Montana Slim. But if you want a great story, Of old cowboy glory, Just ask Old Montata Slim.
