IMMUNIZE YOUR TRUE PRIZE

A new life, a special gift

Babies depend on you, as new parents, for so much in the early stages of life – food, shelter and lots of love. They also count on you to protect their future, so that they may grow up healthy.

That's why it's essential to immunize your child with the proper vaccinations by 24 months of age. You'll lower or eliminate the risk of many preventable diseases and illnesses. It's the best way to protect your future, and the future of the new life with which you've been given.

Contact your provider today and find out if they participate in the "Immunize and Win a Prize" vaccination program. Keeping your child's immunizations up to date is a gift you'll both be grateful for.

This message brought to you by the Kansas Department of Health and Environment and its partners. For more information, visit KDHE at <http://www.kdhe.state.ks.us/immunize>

Vivian Curry was admitted to the Rawlins County Hospital last Friday with pneumonia.

Joan Tongish was a Saturday visitor of Doug and Mary Tongish.

R.J. and Susie Sabatka spent the weekend in Manhattan visiting Rachel and Taylor Wilson and Chanda Sabatka. They also attended the Wildcat basketball game.

Kenny and Phyllis Wilkinson drove to Colby on Friday. There, they met Brad and Rose Wilkinson of Chanute and Joan Malone of Russell. They enjoyed lunch together at the China Buffet.

On Tuesday, a group of the Red Hatters met at the Senior Center to make favors for the rest homes. After enjoying lunch at the Frosty Mug, some of the ladies drove to St. Francis to deliver favors to the Good Samaritan Home and visited Karlyne Atchison. The ladies who delivered the favors were Betty Lewis, Annie Antholz, Frieda Black, Margaret Voorhies, and Phyllis Wingfield.

Laddie and Vera Kacirek were Sunday visitors of Dorothy Cahoj. They also visited Kent and Marilyn Lorens and children in Rural Stratton, Neb.

Tunney and Leila Loker were pleased that all of their children visited then at different times during the week.

On Friday, Jerry and Betty Knapp visited Stan and Becky Purvis and brought Katie Jo Purvis home with them for a visit.

Amelia Banister accompanied Bud and Helen Frisbie to St. Francis, on Thursday, to visit Karlyne Atchison in the Cheyenne County Hospital.

Obituaries

John Wayne Barnhart

Nov. 23, 1922 - Jan. 31, 2005
John Wayne Barnhart, 82, of rural Akron, Colo., died Monday, Jan. 31, 2005, at his home following a lengthy illness.

Barnhart

John was the first of seven children, born Nov. 23, 1922, to Harvey and Irene Evelyn (M o o r e) Barnhart at St. Francis, Kan. He was born on the ranch established by his grandfather, John Barnhart. He spent his early years on this ranch located on the Hackberry Creek between St. Francis and Benkelman, Neb. It was here the family of children, ranging in age from 12 to 2 years, lost their mother in the Republican River flood of May 1935. The care and concern shown by the neighbors and friends greatly influenced the character of the children, not only in their childhood but into adulthood. The importance of friends and neighbors were important.

"Johnnie" attended a rural elementary school and since he was the first in his family to go to school, he didn't know the rules. The first day when the teacher checked her roll after lunch, little Johnnie Barnhart was gone. The other students said that he had gone home. The teacher ran down the road and caught him and he told her that he was going home to get a drink and he would be right back. He was most often the "head bus driver" of the one-horse cart that transported the family 5 miles to and from school. He is credited with some unorthodox antics to reach points ahead of similar conveyances carrying other families.

When the younger children reached working age, Johnnie left home to work at a variety of jobs, including "simonizing" cars at a car dealership and working in a bakery with physically handicapped co-workers. He also helped transport many of the buildings from the Air Force Base in McCook, Neb., to Turpin, Okla., and Anton, Colo. Through this endeavor that he met his future wife of 54 years, Louise Twiss.

Louise and Johnnie were married on Aug. 6, 1950, in Englewood, Colo. After they were married, Johnnie worked at the Douthitt Hereford Ranch at St. Francis, on many oil rigs in the area, at the Ben Hueske Ranch, and at various local grain elevators, including 14 years at Hall Grain Company in Akron. He was a substitute mail carrier on the Burdette Route for Albert Kopsich and took part in many local construction jobs, including the Washington County Hospital, the Masonic Temple, laying the natural gas line in Akron, the construction of the present Rural Electric Association line in Washington and neighboring counties and converting the old Catholic school to apartments.

Johnnie enjoyed livestock care and farming and he and his business partner, Louise, raised many "skinny" calves for sale. They also had quite a large hog operation. Johnnie could and did drive his John Deere equipment long hours, enjoying every moment of it. At the time wheat acreages were so carefully controlled by the government, Johnnie spent many hours moving his "train of equipment" which consisted of a tractor pulling a swather, pulling a pickup. He moved from field to field to swath excess acres of wheat so farmers could get within their allotment. This often meant many hours of meeting deadlines. He got the "good" out of three swathers. These activities he missed terribly when his health began to fail, although his interest remained.

Johnnie enjoyed watching his grandchildren, Kimberly and Mark, grow to adulthood. He always felt so fortunate that they lived in Akron and were easy to keep track of. He was especially proud to attend their college graduations in New Orleans, La., and Laramie, Wyo.

Johnnie was a member of the Akron United Methodist Church, Akron Lions Club, a charter member of the Akron B.P.O.E. No. 2579, and the Northeastern Colorado Quarter Horse Association. He enjoyed books and reading and all the activities of producing, showing and selling both quarter horses and paint horses. He always pretended that he wasn't interested but he watched and enjoyed seeing over two hundred Pekingese puppies born on the farm find their new homes. Receiving and reading the mail was a favorite activity because he enjoyed reading the notes and letters from the many student interns in the equine departments of the local junior colleges who had worked with both Louise and himself on the farm.

Left to mourn his death is his wife Louise, and his daughter, Vicki Horn and husband, John, all of Akron; grandson Mark Horn of Pagosa Springs, Colo.; and granddaughter, Kimberly Horn and fiance', Jonathan O'Neil of Fort Collins, Colo.; four sisters: Manota Daniels and husband, Clyde of Stratton, Neb., Macalene

Olson and husband, Alden of McDonald, Wilma Petsch and husband, Jess of Guiderock, Neb., and Willa Scott and husband, Claude of Gonzales, La.; brothers: Jim Barnhart and wife, Mildred, Jerdene Barnhart and wife, Barbara, and Maurice Barnhart and wife, Jan, all of St. Francis; brother-in-law: Howard Twiss of Otis, Colo.; 40 nieces and nephews, and a host of friends.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Although almost completely bedfast for eight months, his spirits remained high and he rarely thought but what the next day would be better. He continually hoped he could again do the things he enjoyed most. His grin and good humor certainly helped those who cared for him and loved him. He will be missed by all.

Memorial contributions in Johnnie's memory may be made to the Akron Lions Club or to the St. Jude Research Children's Hospital.

Funeral services were conducted Friday, Feb. 4, from the Akron United Methodist Church with Reverend Ramon Robledo officiating. Rosalie Jefferson, organist, accompanied Linda Hayes and Donne Spicknall as they sang "In The Garden", "One Day At A Time", "Here I Am, Lord", "On The Wings Of A Dove."

Casket bearers were: Ed Basler, Robert E. Diamond, Clay Nab, Kenneth Pieper, Tom Quint, Dick Tharp.

Honorary bearers were: Norwood Bondhus, Charles Gebauer, Frank Hernandez, Robert Kraich, Everett Matheny, Harold Miller, Dale Nelson, Dr. Mick Price, Keith Rogers, Rob Strauch, and Joe Theurer.

Interment followed in the Akron Cemetery with Brenner Funeral Home of Akron in charge of arrangements.

South of McDonald

Weekend guests of Tom and Kelly Dewey were Kelly's sister, Kristina Springer and Kelly's new nephew, Braxton Springer. Craig and Barbara Morton were weekend visitors also.

George and Kathy Banister traveled to Sharon Springs Thursday to attend the junior high basketball tournament, and Friday for high school basketball games. Cheylin went to Sharon Springs Saturday and the girls B-team took third place.

On Tuesday, George and Kathy Banister attended the high school basketball games at Golden Plains.

Joe Kramer is in Ozawkie this weekend visiting his dad, W.A. Kramer who is very ill.

Irene Kehlbeck is out of the hospital and is back at the Good Samaritan Village in St. Francis.
