Contest still waiting for first baby of '08

By Karen Krien
There have been no calls announcing that the first 2008 Cheyenne County baby has arrived. The first baby and his or her parents will receive some very nice gifts.

The "First Baby of the Year 2008" contest began on Jan. 1. It will end when the first phone call comes in and the baby/parents meet the rules of the contest.

Actually, there is only one requirement and that is the baby must be born to parents living in Cheyenne County for one month or more. These parents and their new-born infant will be awarded gifts from sponsors.

The Saint Francis Herald office must be notified as soon as possible following the birth. The Herald's number is 785-332-3162 or call 785-332-3246.

The parents of this year's first baby will receive a $25 gift certificate from St. Francis Super's, $50 bond from Western State Bank, a $50 bond from First National Bank, Bird City/St. Francis, a baby photo album or frame from Schultz's, a baby gift from Owens True Value, a baby gift from Krien Pharmacy, two bottles of champagne from Burr Liquor, and a year's subscription to The Saint Francis Herald or Bird City Times.

The first baby of the year will also receive a special quilt from the Prairie Piecemaker Quilt Guild, Goodland. Bonnie McQuillen, member, said the quilt may be picked up at The St. Francis Herald office.

The parents of the new baby will need to pick up their gifts or claim their services within 60 days after the birth.

Since most babies are not on schedule, it's hard telling when the Families to get help with their energy bills

By Karen Krien

Qualifying families in the county will be able to get help with their heat bills this winter.

Priority Oil and Gas LLC announced the company will once again be helping some families in Cheyenne County to meet their winter heating costs.

President/owner Robbie Gries said she realized that, with the rising energy costs, there are people who are having trouble paying their heating bills. She decided to begin the Cheyenne County Energy Assistance Program in the winter of 2005. Every year since then, Priority has continued to assist Cheyenne County residents with their escalating heating bills.

"The program is a direct relationship between the oil and gas company and low income families who need help with their heating bills because of the increase in energy prices," Ms. Gries said.

The program is comparable to the Low-Income Energy Assistance Program (LEAP).

Applications are available at the sheriff's or the county treasurer's offices, both located in the courthouse in St. Francis. People may call the company at 303-296-3435; e-mail priortyog@aol.com or contact Jessica Andrews in Idalia at 970-354-7495 for applications. Applications are due in Priority's office no later than Jan. 31.

"Helping residents with their heating bills is a way the company can give back to the community," Ms. Gries said. "The assistance is not designed to pay the whole bill but assistance will be given on the varied bases of need. We try to weigh the need with the amount of dollars to be dispersed." Priority owns wells only in Cheyenne County, however, they have exploration projects in Wyoming and Colorado.

Ms. Gries started the company in 1992 and reformed the business in 1995. She started with 12 wells and is now up to 121 wells in the county.

She has a bachelor's degree in geology from Colorado State University and a master's degree from University of Texas, Austin. She has been a geologist for 35 years and prior to that, for 2.5 years, taught beginning geology at Wichita State University.

Others working with Ms. Gries are Melissa Gray, business director; Mrs. Andrews of LaRana Resources LLC, contract field operations supervisor; and Kevin Andrews of Andrews Well Services LLC, contract field manager.

Ms. Gries said the Cheyenne County Energy Assistance Program will continue as long as the company can afford to do so and expects the program to be a long-term project. She reminds interested people that applications are due by Jan. 31.

Shower to help babies

The Bird City/St. Francis Knights of Columbus Council is holding their annual Pro-Life baby shower during the month of January. They will be collecting items throughout the month which are needed to help raise a newborn baby.

At the end of the month, all items donated will be taken to Hays and given to the Mary Elizabeth Maternity Home for Unwed Mothers.

A partial list of items which may be donated includes baby clothes, newborn and size 1 diapers, 4-ounce baby bottles with slow nipples, blankets, infant car seats and strollers (new or used - less than two years old).

You may either give the items you wish to be donated to any Knights of Columbus members or leave them at the Catholic Church.

The collections goes until the end of January.

Donations help buy new floor

Each year at Christmas, the Good Samaritan Village, St. Francis, establishes the "Love Tree." The tree gives people the opportunity to donate money by giving it in the name of another person.

"The beautiful tree reflects the love and support for the Village's service to the residents, their families and the community," said Carol Redding, village resource development and coordinator.

Donations were given in honor of living loved ones, not necessarily residing in the Village, or in memory of deceased loved ones. "Your giving, occasionally anonymous, was very generous and the Village staff realized that these funds could have been given to many other worthy causes," Ms. Redding said.

The funds raised this year will go toward replacing the floor covering in the activity room.

People are urged to stop by the Village and see the new floor which will be installed in the near future. While there, stop by and visit the residents. They enjoy visiting with friends and neighbors.
