Bird City/McDonald Red Hatters

The Eggers Historical Memorabilia building on the Tri-State Antique Engine and Thresher grounds at Bird City kept history alive on Aug. 1, with the 11 a.m. enthusiastic and frolicsome "Red Hot Mamas" appearance.

Gwen Boswell, moderator and choreographer, opened by dancing a rendition of the Charleston accompanied with the song "Charleston" on the player piano. She then read the history of how this eclectic group came into being in front of a lighted sentinel approving red hat lady.

Betty Lewis sang "A Red Hat Girl" as Gwen played "Pretty Girl" on the piano. Gwen next played "Five Foot Two" while most of the red hatters, joined by Sidney Busse of Bird City (Cheyenne County third runner up Junior Miss) did their Broadway

Nine members and one guest, Eleanor Swihart, enjoyed a Garden Tour to Colby on Wednesday, Aug. 13. They visited the yard and home of James and Sandra Kriss. Members agreed this was one of the best tours and unusual yard they have ever visited. The brick enclosed yard had so many unusual and hard-to-grow plants. Dozens of Hibiscus of every color were blooming. Grape vines were laden with grapes. Tomato vines as tall as your head back in the spring when the roses will be blooming, the group decided to have a June Tour in the Kriss' yard.
