Prom — a time of enchantment

Saturday night was a time of enchantment for the Cheylin's junior and senior class students, because it was prom night.

The McDonald gymnasium was decorated to resemble an Italian restaurant with a DJ and a dance floor covered with balloons and the theme, "That's Amore!"

The special evening began with the promenade and attendees arriving with their dates at the entrance in McDonald. As the young men opened the doors of their vehicles, out stepped their dates dressed elegantly in anticipation of what lay ahead.

As they paraded for parents and friends to take pictures, they entered into another time and space for an evening away from school, work and left their cares at the door.

Then everyone sat down to a dinner of pecan encrusted chicken breast, parsley new potatoes, green bean bunches wrapped prochetto, sour dough baguette rolls and for dessert, choice of fudge delight or strawberry cheesecake.

This year's senior sponsors were Babs Antholz and Max Keltz. The decorations were done by the junior class, the dinner prepared by the junior moms, and served by many of the sophomore students. Not to be left out, the junior fathers valet parked the vehicles.

After food and dancing, the partygoers continued with an after-prom party in the Cheylin gymnasium until 3 a.m.
