Bikers with cause ride through city

Taking advantage of the shade at the Bird City Diner on July 4, a group of Bike and Build Riders stopped to get an ice cream from the diner only to find it closed.

This group of bikers are part of a group of 32 riders who left Virginia Beach, Va. on May 27 and plan on reaching Cannon Beach, Ore. on Aug 8. The object of their 3,806 mile trip is to raise money and awareness for Affordable Housing.

Bike and Build Riders all commit themselves to spending two months of the summer biking across the country.

Final destination for this group of Bike and Build Riders on July 4 was St. Francis United Methodist Church where they ate and spent the night after relaxing in the swimming pool. Early in the morning the group arose and headed out for Akron, Colo.

Before peddling to St. Francis, the bikers spent the day on June 25 in Kansas City, working on various projects. Their next work day was scheduled for Boulder, Colo. on July 8.

The proceeds from the funds raised through public awareness are used throughout the U.S. to finance projects executed by young adults.

Student graduates

Savannah Isley graduated from Colby Community College on May 12. She is transferring to Kansas State University in the fall to complete her bachelors degree in animal science. She received the Kansas Horse Council Scholarship and the Dean Hansen Foundation Scholarship.

Cort, Megan, and Hallee Antholz and Gilbert and Janice Antholz were weekend guests of Brent and Tina Smith in Seward, Neb.

Lavina Waters and Louise Akers spent the week in Gunnison, Colo. with Doug and Ann Good.

Jim and Lois Morelock attended the wedding of Jim's granddaughter, Megan Morelock to Tyler Pfannenstiel in Hays Saturday.

Visitors at the Kenneth and Phyllis Wilkinson home Monday evening were Berdean Wilkinson, Tess Wilkinson of Wake Forrest, N. C. and her daughter Abby Ridge and friend JoJo Gast of Holly Springs, N. C., Danny Wilkinson, Ryan Wilkinson, and Rod and Lisa Johnson.

For the Record

Sheriff Van Allen and Cody Beeson from the Sheriff's department attended the July 2, city council meeting giving the following report of duties performed by Deputies in Bird City during the month of June.

During the course of 75 hours of patrol and case work in Bird City Deputies performed patrol, checked doors of businesses, and responded to the following calls: 2 dog complaints, 2 warnings for dog at large, 1 welfare check, 2 trespassing warnings, 2 complaints over young children riding 4 wheelers in town, 1 traffic contact and 7 calls to service.

Other duties deputies performed were keeping in touch with City Attorney Kevin Berens in regards to enforcing the current burn/firework ban, and assisting Bird City Fire Department with the high volume of fires in June.

Sheriff Van Allen is leaving the department and Cody Beeson will be running for election as Sheriff, so the Sheriff's Department has also been taking applications for a new Deputy to be hired shortly.

IF THE DINOSAURS HAD READ TO THEIR CHILDREN... THEY WOULDN'T BE EXTINCT!

Some species just don't get it. In order to survive and preserve the species, you've got to do what you've got to do. In the case of human beings, one of the most important learned survival skills in this fast-paced, competitive world, is the ability to read. And since newspapers are so readily available so often, we suggest that you help your children to survive and to be better prepared for the world out there by reading aloud to them regularly, and by encouraging them to become regular newspaper readers. They'll thank you for it as they succeed in life.

IT ALL STARTS WITH NEWSPAPERS!
