

Racing fans treated to double features

By MIKE HUGHES
Fans at Elmwood Park Speedway were treated to double features Saturday night. Features from the previous week were rained out and were ran first on the evening's card.

In the IMCA Modified make-up feature, Norton's Steve Reedy took the early lead with Darin Schartz and Jeff Walters in hot pursuit. Walters, of Commerce City, Colo., worked his way to second when Doug Shearer spun on lap 5 to bring out a caution. After the restart, Walters bided his time and passed Reedy for the lead on lap 8. A caution on lap 11 kept the field close as Tim Watts had worked his way to second, only to break and drop out on lap 14. 'The Rajin Cajin' was able to lead the rest of the way to score the win, followed by Brian Calhoon, Rick Schwab, Marty Clark, and Shearer.

The IMCA Stock Car make-up feature had a rough time getting started. The caution flag flew twice without even getting a lap in, and in the process, 4 of the 16 starters were eliminated. Nathan Glendening led the opening lap, but gave way to Josh Hudson on the next lap. The final caution came on lap 13 when Glendening spun, bunching up the field with Hudson, Mark Zorn, Jason Schoenberger, Kelly Ford and Jason Rogers lined up in the top 5 spots. Zorn, of Russell, made the winning pass on lap 15 and was able to hold off Hudson, Schoenberger, Rogers and Ford to the wire.

Kensington's Cory Struckhoff took the lead from Dresden's Dave Meitl on lap 3 of the IMCA Hobby Stock make-up feature and led the remaining 9 laps for the victory. Wade Wagenblast finished a close second, trailed by Kelly Karnopp, Barry Schoen and Brady Schoen.

Norton drivers dominated the Cruiser make-up feature. Rhona Annon and Josh Wonderly took the lead at the drop of the green, but Wes and Chuck Eagleburger assumed command of the 10-lap race on lap 5. Kirk Persinger and Justin Graham made the winning pass in the final laps to score the win over the Eagleburgers and Annon and Wonderly.

The regular race program then got underway with heat races in all four divisions.

The Cruiser feature was the first to the track, and a second lap mishap eliminated four cars in the 10-car field. After the restart, the Eagleburger brothers, who had led from the drop of the green, were again chased down by Persinger and Graham, who made another late pass for their second win of the night. Jason Albrecht and Gary Rennebeck finished third. Heat race winners were Persinger and Graham and Annon and Wonderly.

Fifteen cars took the green in the IMCA Hobby Stock feature with Kale Shank of Smith Center jumping out front. But Norton's Kelly Karnopp took the lead on lap 2 and led the remaining distance of the caution free race to score the win. Wagenblast finished in the runner-up spot once again, followed by Brady Schoen, Garrett Brown and Shank. However, on the final lap, Schoen made contact with Tracy Holloway which dropped him from third to 12th, and track officials bumped Schoen one spot and awarded Holloway third place. Brady Schoen, Karnopp and Barry Schoen won the three heat races.

The IMCA Stock Car feature had fans on the edge of their seats as nine cars battled up front for most of the race, running side-by-side and nose-to-tail. Glendening led lap one, but Jay Hackmeister took the point on lap 2. That held up for 5 laps before Edmond's Randy Clydesdale took the helm. The battle was on until the lone caution flew on lap 17 for debris. Clydesdale was able to hold off a hard charging Hudson for the win. Ford was third, followed by Schoenberger and Rogers. Heat race winners included Hackmeister, J.R. McCreery, and Rogers.

Hoisington's Mike Petersilie led all 20-laps of the caution free IMCA Modified feature. The battle throughout the race was for second place, which Norton's Jim Arnold won over Darin Schartz. Tim Watts, who borrowed his brother's car to run the feature after his car broke earlier in the night, finished fourth, with Clark rounding out the top five. Petersilie and Arnold won the two heat races.

Racing action returns to Elmwood Park Speedway on Saturday, June 5, at 7 p.m. with the regular four classes doing battle.

Charles and Nadeane Haag attended Senior Sunday on Mother's Day (May 9) at the Memorial United Methodist Church in McCook where their granddaughter, Michelle Gaunt, and other classmates did the morning service. Following the service a co-op dinner was held at the Gaunt home. Charles D. Haag of Oberlin brought homemade ice cream and Julie Haag brought the news that Nathan and Marti Haag of Rushville, Neb., have a 6 lb. 12 oz. baby girl, Brenna Quinn, who was born that morning. She has a 3 1/2 year old sister, Berklie awaiting her arrival home. C.D. and Betsy Haag are the grandparents and Charles and Nadeane Haag are the great grandparents besides two more sets of grandparents and two sets of great grandparents in the Rushville, Chadron area.

Charles and Nadeane stayed all day in McCook and attended the Senior Sunday Baccalaureate service that evening.

Mother's Day callers in the Dean and Margaret Brown home to extend their mother greetings were Bob and Deanna Propes of McCook, Gary and Nick Brown and Daryl Brown.

Kendall and Virginia Rice were in Sioux City the weekend of May 8 to attend the 25th anniversary celebration of her brother Howard Mall and wife.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Fran Jorgensen whose funeral service was held Friday afternoon in Cambridge. Fran had touched the lives of many young people and their parents in this area as he had taught in the Cambridge school for 32 years before retiring six years ago because of his health. He had served as the Ag teacher, FFA advisor and coached wrestling. Three young men from this area served as pallbearers. They were Heath Ruf, Kurt Knutson and Brian Holtze, all FFA students.

Memories at I.H.O.
Seven members and two guests showed things that had belonged to their mother and a memento of their high school graduation for roll call when they met at the home of Velma Holtze on Wednesday afternoon. The surprise of the afternoon was when long time member, Ellen Miller, and her daughter, Dixie Bryan of Lexington, arrived just after the business meeting, conducted by Vice President Carla Holtze, began. Happy Birthday was sung to Mrs. Miller who will be 94 this month. Mrs. Holtze shared two mother's day thoughts and closed her devotions by having the group sing "Mother". Everyone helped with the program by sharing a poem, song or story pertaining to mother, as well as sharing something special they remembered about their mother and also about one of the other member's mother. A written game about mothers name was played while Mrs. Holtze and her daughter in-law, Carla prepared to serve refreshments. Mrs. Holtze chose the young people who help with summer activities at Camp Joy as the recipients of the monetary offering.

May Breakfast
Edith Rikli was hostess to the Double 8 May Breakfast May 8, held at the Cambridge Community building. Members were seated at tables decorated in yellow and lavender. A beautiful bouquet of yellow roses and lavender carnations centered the table. Each guest received a fragrant candle as their favor. A delicious breakfast of eggs and sausage casserole, fruit cup and sticky buns were enjoyed by all. Helpers were Virginia Andre, Becky Holtze, Sandy Kasson and Barb Wolfe. Dorothy Ankenman assisted in serving. Norma Kasson had charge of the program. She used excerpts from the book 'When I am Old I Shall Wear Purple'. She also shared antidotes from the book, "The Red Hat Society Book". A gift exchange ended the festivities.

College Graduation.
Cassandra Lewis graduated from Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa, Saturday, May 8 with her Bachelor's degree of Science in Nursing. She and seven other graduates received their Registered Nurse pin at a special ceremony. Following the graduation she and Robin Makne, her college roommate all four years, were honored at a reception hosted by both girl's parents. Attending were her family Bill, Kathy and Andy Lewis, Karen and Alicia Brown, Wilsonville; Kenny Seam, Monte Vista, Colo.; Darrel Parlier and Kit Ahlmeyer, Kearney; Bev and Cecil Parker, Holdrege; May and Ira Wierenga, Hastings; Phil and Dixie Menga, Cozad; Heidi Lewis, Kearney; Mike Lewis, Chicago, Ill.; Rev. Marlene and David Geiske, Etterick, Wis.; Kendall and Virginia Rice, Wilsonville, and her fiancée, Steven Hultgren. Starting in July she will be working at the Mayo Clinic on the liver/spleen transplant floor in Jacksonville, Fla.
