WILSONVILLE

By VELMA HOLTZE

Graduations
High school graduation was held Saturday afternoon at the Cambridge high school. The four Wilsonville girls, Alicia Brown, Janene Holtze, Ashley Rice and Chelsea Rut, were honored by their parents following the ceremonies with receptions. Chelsea and Ashley's were held at the Cambridge Community building, Alicia's at the Baptist-Christian Church and Janene's at her home. Out of state and town relatives came for these receptions.

Ivalene and James Simmons spent Saturday night and Sunday with her mother, Velma Hahn. They came especially to attend the graduation of Janene Holtze. Also coming for the same reason was Jim and Sherrill Hayes of Lincoln and Craig Mohr of Eagle. A special blessing for Janene was the fact that her grandmother Betty Murphy from the Arapahoe Rest Home was able to be brought to the Holtze home for her reception.

Carla Holtze and her daughter, Rhonda Banzhaf, drove to Rochester, Minn., on Sunday where Rhonda will be seeing doctors on Monday and maybe longer. Doug and Mary Palmer took Mary's mother, Carolyn O'Brein to Rochester where she has a doctor's appointment for a check up on Tuesday.

Kenny Sears of Monte Vista, Colorado spent the weekend here to attend the graduation of his niece, Alicia Brown. Here for the same reason was Alicia's brother, Ben and wife of Lincoln.

Fatal Accident
The community was shocked on Sunday morning when the sad news reached the community of the fatal accident, which claimed the life of Jesse Mowry. It was a one-car accident just west of Cambridge. Jesse graduated at Cambridge just two years ago. He was now serving his country in the armed forces, stationed in Kansas. He was home to enjoy graduations with relatives and friends. Jesse is the son of Rick and Jan Mowry. Rick is the owner of Floyd's Body shop and Jan operates her beauty shop both in Wilsonville. Jesse is also survived by twin brother, Justin and younger brother, Terry.

Dan and Georgia Stahr left Monday May 17th for their home in Malcom, Nebraska after spending the weekend in Wilsonville. They came to attend their niece, Michelle Gaunt's (daughter of Carol and Matthew Gaunt) graduation party on Saturday evening and her graduation exercises in McCook on Sunday afternoon. Other relatives attending were Charles D and Betsy Haag of Oberlin, Kansas, Gordon, Denise, Justin, Jordan and Jared Haag of Fairbury, Neb., and Charles and Nadeane Haag (her grandparents). Congratulations to Dixie Landreth for receiving the Maxine Price scholarship to help her further her education to become a registered nurse.

The community got quite a lot of news coverage Saturday evening as the radio weatherman kept citing Wilsonville in the path of approaching tornadoes. However, they did not materialize in this area, but went farther east before touching down.

This coming weekend is one of the big ones for Wilsonville. Many look forward to it as they get to see friends from years ago who gather for alumni on Sunday evening. Many family members come home for the Memorial Day service on Monday. There will be special class gatherings on Saturday night and Sunday. Wilsonville alumni members are urged to attend to welcome those coming from California, Washington state, Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas as well as closer states like Iowa, Colorado, Kansas and Wyoming. This is only a few of what we have heard who will be here.
