Church:

Take advantage of the church listings to find out when and where to go.

Page 6 & 7

cents THENORTON ELECTRON Vol. 97, No.55 75 cents

Sports:

Fifth-grade baseball team takes second place and American Legion team has mixed results.

Pages 8 & 10

Friday July 9, 2004

Norton, Kansas Home of Ted Hull

Briefly

Library wants its books back

The Norton Public Library is granting amnesty to all those with long overdue books who return them by Labor Day. Fines will resume after Sept. 6.

Commission to hold hearing

The Norton Recreation Commission will hold a budget hearing at 7 p.m. on Monday, July 19, at the Norton School District board room at the Alice Tweed Center. The commission will answer people's questions regarding their use of funds.

Grassland date is next Friday

Next Friday is the cutoff date for Grassland Reserve Program applications to be considered for this year.

To determine if the program will help in your farming operation, stop by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Service Center in Norton at 113 N. Norton, or call (785) 877-2623. The website address is: www.ks.nrcs.usda.gov.

Weather

Forecast:

Tonight — A 20 percent chance of thunderstorms in the evening. Lows in the upper 60s. South winds 10 to 15 mph. Saturday — Highs in the mid 90s. South winds 10 to 15 mph with higher gusts. Saturday night — A 20 percent chance of thunderstorms in the evening. Lows in the upper 60s. South winds 10 to 15 mph and gusty. Sunday — Highs in the upper 90s. Sunday night — Lows in the upper 60s.

Howell report:

Tuesday	. High 83, Low 59
Wednesday	. High 93, Low 63
Thursday	. High 92, Low 64
.06 of an in	ch of precipitation
Week ago	. High 86, Low 67
Month ago	. High 90, Low 60
Year ago	. High 91, Low 62
luly precipitation	1.88 inches
Year-to-date precipitation 11.76 inches
/D !! . I I . D . I	15 111 116

(Readings taken at the Paul and Pat Howell farm 10 Miles North and 1/3 Mile East of Norton)

O God, thank you for your overflowing goodness to us. Help us to give back to you, generously and joyfully. Amen

Jared Bixby (above) of the Rolling Hills Zoo in Salina, spoke to a standing-room-only crowd Thursday afternoon in the Norton Library gymnasium. Mr. Bixby told the gathering about the plight of the rain forests while the zoo crew (three young assistants), carried exhibits around the room so that youngsters could get a closer look. Children had a chance to see a hissing cockroach from Madagascar (right) up close and personal. They also saw a turtle and got to touch snake skins and feathers.

— Telegram photos by Carolyn Plotts

Commission candidates vie for third district seat

John Miller

Incumbent seeks third term

Third District Norton County Commissioner John Miller is running for a third four-year term in office.

Mr. Miller said he was asked to run for the commission in 1992, but chose not to because he felt he didn't know enough about county government to do a good job. He spent the next four years studying and ran in 1996.

He said he ran for office because he thought changes needed to be made in the way the county was run. He's running again because there are still things that (Continued on Page 5)

George Gassmann

Challenger looks at landfill

George Gassmann is running in the Aug. 3 Republican primary for Norton's third district commissioner seat. He will Clydesdale in the Nov. 2 general election.

Mr. Gassmann said he wanted to help face incumbent John Miller. The winner will face Democrat Robert the city and county work together. "Hopefully we can get more cooperation between the city and county instead of it being county versus city," he said.

Mr. Gassmann lives in Clayton and said that regardless of his location, he (Continued on Page 5)

Robert Clydesdale

Democrat wants to make changes

Democrat Robert Clydesdale is running for the third district Norton County Commission seat. This is the first time Mr. Clydesdale has run for office.

He is the only Democrat running for the third district seat and will be unopposed in the Tuesday, Aug. 3 primary. He said he's running because he feels lieve some of it.

things are not going well in the county. He said there is tension and turmoil in the county and feels he will be able to re-

(Continued on Page 5)

Woman missed flag on city poles

By CAROLYN PLOTTS

The Norton City flagpoles were bare on the Fourth of July and, at least, one citi-

Teresa Tolle, the wife of a serviceman in Iraq, attended Wednesday night's council meeting. Mrs. Tolle first complimented the council for its community mindedness, but then said she was disappointed to not have seen a single flag displayed by the city on July 4.

She explained how important it was for people to display their patriotism.

City Administrator Rob Lawson apologized for the oversight.

Former council member Harriet Gill asked the council to explain their reasoning behind waiving the three reading requirement of the ordinance that will raise electric rates for all customers.

Mayor Corns said that a major problem had been found in one of the big engines at the power plant that had to be fixed immediately. In order to pay for these repairs the temporary rate adjustment had to be put into effect as soon as possible. Sales tax figures are in for the month of June and the numbers are up. City tax income was $15,854.53 and the county tax money received was $11,958.35 for a total of $27,812.88. The year-to-date income receipts are $166,782.92. Mr. Lawson informed the council that the study done by First Impressions, a community betterment program coordinated by the Huck Boyd National Insti-

(Continued on Page 5)

Forum to be held in Oberlin

With the primary election a little less than a month away, the Decatur County Farm Bureau will sponsor a candidate coffee at 2 p.m. Saturday so voters can meet the candidates for the 40th District state Senate seat, 120th District state representative and District 2 commissioner in Decatur County.

The event will be held in the auditorium at the Decatur Community High School in Oberlin.

Candidates who will be present include two Republican candidates for the Senate seat:

• Dan Rasure of Goodland, a recent college graduate who just finished an internship with Congressman Jerry Moran, but began his campaign at the first of the

• Ralph Ostmeyer, state representative from Grinnell, who entered the race after the death of Sen. Stan Clark last month. They will meet Democrat Tim Peterson from Monument. He farms in Logan County and is the vice-chair of the Kansas Agricultural Remediation Board.

Republicans running for the representative seat are: • John Faber, the incumbent Republican, who lives and farms at Brewster. Norton County Attorney Doug Sebelius, who lost to Mr. Faber in the primary two years ago. Democrat Bob Strevey, who also lost to Mr. Faber in the last election, will face the winner in the November general election. The two Republicans running for Decatur County Commission • Ralph Unger, the incumbent, who has served the county for over 25 years. • Phillip Lahman, who lives in Oberlin and has filed petitions against an increase in school taxes for the last two years.

The forum is open to the public and everyone is urged to attend.

Challenger to work for whole county

(Continued from Page 1) would focus on the entire county. "If I'm elected I'll look at the whole county. I like to look at the whole picture. I try to be fair and honest with everybody."

He said the budget should be fair to all parts of the community and that would help keep the county strong.

"We're a small community and we can't afford to have more people leave than we already have."

Mr. Gassmann said two issues important to him were the landfill and the airport. On the landfill, he stressed the importance of getting the new landfill ready so that trash no longer has to be hauled out of the county. He said cooperation was important for the airport.

"The county and city both need to work together," he said. "It's going to benefit the whole county."

Mr. Gassmann has served on the New Almelo township board for two terms, the Lenora school board for 13 years and the Northwest Kansas Vo-Tech school board. He is also a member of his parish counsel and is the treasurer for the Knights of Columbus. He is a past president and past vice president of that group.

Mr. Gassmann is a farmer and mechanic. He and his wife, Vickie, have three adult children, Randy, Jeremy and Alice, and one teenage daughter, Connie, who will be a junior at Norton Community High School.

In his spare time, Mr. Gassmann enjoys boating, riding four-wheelers in the country, water skiing, snow skiing and visiting children and grandchildren.

Weddings, funerals, engagements, and births. You'll find it all in...

I ELEGRAM

Wednesday a crew from the City of Norton worked to home-owned carnival group praised the work of the city, assemble the "Spider" carnival ride in preparation for the community and Norton Correctional Facility in getthe Norton County Fair. Mick Miller, president of the ting the rides ready to go. — Telegram photo by Carolyn Plotts

Group ready to give impressions of city

(Continued from Page 1)

three teams of two people to visit have the money to pay. Norton and assess the community in different areas.

to the public at 6:30 p.m., July 21, council agreed. in the basement of City Hall.

'We want the public to be there."

cil that Ivan Kingham, chairman of for his investigative work on a case Building on West U.S. 36. tute for Rural Development was the airport board, brought a bill for for them. $3,553 from Boxler Insurance for First Impressions arranged for coverage that the board does not

He said that it was a covered expense in the budget and that it Their findings will be presented needed to be taken care of. The

Mr. Lawson reported that Assis-Councilman Jerry Hawks said, tant Police Chief Toby Kuhn had been complimented by the Mr. Lawson advised the coun- Pottawatomie County Attorney

In other business the council:

Democrat seeks business promotion

(Continued from Page 1)

"I've been asked to run by sevwe just have to step up to civic the county needs to change its at- keep Norton County the good titude about the business commuplace it is to live." nity and promote business, not stifle it.

work better with the city.

"In these tough times, every-'We need to all work together and the community."

Mr. Clydesdale is a farmer/ election.

rancher and lives 14 miles south of Norton. He is married with three eral people," he said. "Sometimes, children and two grandchildren.

have roots in Norton County," he said. "I think it's time Mr. Clydesdale said he thinks for my generation to step up and Mr. Clydesdale is a member of the United Methodist Church of He feels the county also needs to Edmond. He is a board member on both the Natural Resources Conservation Service and the Solobody seems to be in a rut," he said. mon Valley Rural Fire District.

Mr. Clydesdale will face the stay together for the betterment of winner of the Republican primary in the Tuesday, Nov. 2 general

Hospice gets new coordinator

Mary Kay Woodyard has been ing with other volunteers. named the Norton County volunteer coordinator for Hospice Serdinator Karen Glenn.

Phillipsburg.

Mrs. Woodyard's responsibilison for hospice traveling staff; Woodyard at 877-5519 or the helping provide information; an- agency's office in Phillipsburg at swering questions; and participat- (800) 315-5122.

"Mary Kay does not receive payment for her time," Ms. McKenzie said, "Our ability to Mrs. Woodyard took over after provide adequate volunteer serthe resignation of long-time coor-vices is related to individuals like Karen and Mary Kay who give so The county volunteer coordina- much of themselves. I can't imagtor reports to the Director of Vol- ine how our organization would unteers Amanda McKenzie from look without these caring individuals."

To learn more about volunteerties include providing a local per- ing with hospice you may call Mrs.

Norton County Weather Forecast July 9th - 15th Thu Fri Sat Sun Tue Mon Wed 99/65 100/65 98/64 95/63 97/64 90/60 93/62

Normal High 90 Normal Low

Sunrise 6:20 to 6:24am Sunset 9:07 to 9:09pm

July has started off with thunderstorms about every night. 4" to 8" of rain has fallen around the area, almost doubling the normal monthly average of 3.5". Temperatures over the last week have risen from 80 to 100 degrees. The hot weather will continue the next 7-10 days. Afternoon and evening storms will be in the forecast today and through the weekend. Then we will see a drier period over the first half of next week.

www.decisionweather.com

"Call 1-866-SKY-EYES for a recorded forecast" Courtesy of Miller Aviation Copyright © 2004 Decision Weather, Inc.

excellent job," Mayor Corns said. "They need to hear compliments more often.'

Mr. Hawks reported that Norton Sports Center was concerned that the public was lead to believe that they were losing their Snapper dealership. Mr. Hawks said the owners emphasized that this was not true and had never been considered. They are and will continue to be Snapper dealers.

parking violations. Discussed setting a time rethe city limits. • Accepted the application from

• Authorized a state loan to pay

"Our police department does an for a new waste water treatment actions we've taken," he said. "We

 Agreed to purchase a used truck for $15,000 to haul sludge from the sewer treatment plant. • Agreed to send appreciation letters to airport board members thanking them for their work and to ask if they would be interested in serving on the new board. Approved sidewalk replacement at the corner of Reagan Avenue and Quail Drive.

• Agreed to lease/purchase a • Voted to increase the fine for Jacobsen Turfcat Series 600 mower.

 Asked city crews to remove striction for shooting fireworks in old garage sale and other signs on city poles before the car show.

 Agreed to grant a beer garden Building Contractors, for sewer license to the American Legion services to the new Farm Services during the county fair.

Incumbent

need to be changed. "Norton County is one of the best places to raise kids," he said. "I want to keep it that way. There are only four counties left in northwest Kansas that aren't experiencing a population decline. Norton County is one of them." Mr. Miller said during his two terms in office, a lot of changes have been made, including large changes in the budgeting process so money was spent more effi-He said he really enjoys working in county government. "With county government, you can actually see when you make progress," he said. "Helping people makes you really believe in the process of county govern-Mr. Miller said the commissioners are putting out a brochure on how tax dollars are being spent.

'We've always tried to be open and honest about the way taxes are being spent," he said. He said in the past eight years, no services have been cut, but things have become a lot more streamlined. "We've tried to do the best possible thing for the county in all the

(the commissioners) may not always like the things that need to be done, but in the end, it's what we felt was best for the people who live here.' Mr. Miller is a farmer and a cattle/calf operator. He has been married for 28 years and has four children and two granddaughters. He is a certified county commissioner, which requires 40 hours of classroom work, is a member of the Central Republican Committee, and is on several boards and committees. Mr. Miller will face George Gassmann in the Tuesday, Aug. 3, Republican primary election. The winner will face Democrat

Robert Clydesdale in the general election on Tuesday, Nov. 2.

215 S. Kansas—785-877-3361

PLUS...

If you need a gift idea,

a new subscription to

The Norton Telegram

is perfect!!!

3 Months $18.00

1 Year $70.00

6 Months $37.00

Student (9 Mo.) $52.50

Less than 6 Mo. would be $15 per month

1 Year $76.00

6 Months $42.00

Student (9 Mo.) $57.00

Less than 6 Mo. would be $15 per month

TAX IS INCLUDED

ELSEWHERE IN KANSAS

AND NEBRASKA:

ELSEWHERE IN US: