

OBITUARIES

Marvin L. Keener

Nov. 21, 1915 - Aug. 8, 2004

Marvin L. Keener, 88, died Aug. 8 at St. John Hospice, Lakewood, Colo.

Mr. Keener was born Nov. 21, 1915, at the home of his great-grandfather in Norcatour.

On July 4, 1948, he married Olive Paschal at Stoneham, Colo. Mr. Keener owned and operated a paint spraying business in Greeley until Dec. 1948, when the family moved to Denver. He was a civilian mechanic at Lowry Air Force Base during World War II, repairing planes coming from Europe.

He later went to Kersey, Colo., and worked at the Henry Dairy until the end of the war. He returned to Denver where he worked for the Denver Dry Wall Co. as a sheet rock finisher for 29 years. He was retired for 25 years.

Survivors include his wife of 56 years, Olive, Golden, Colo.; two daughters, Jan and John LaMaster, Golden and Marla Wells, Denver.

Mr. Keener was a cousin of Imogene (Hager) Hoyt, Norton.

Funeral services were held at the Golden Nazarene Church, with Pastor Joe Gorman officiating. Margaret Dodson accompanied soloist, John Hays. Pallbearers were John Hardendorf, John J. Hays, John LaMaster, John Hogan, Joshua Cole and David Wells. Honorary pallbearers were Dave Walker, Tim Avila, Jamie Hays and Rob Wooldrick. Burial was in the Golden Cemetery.

Aspen Mortuaries of Colorado was in charge of the arrangements.

George McCoy

Sept. 3, 1924 - Aug. 30, 2004

George McCoy, 79, Bella Vista, Ark., died Aug. 30, at Highland Healthcare and Rehabilitation Center in Bella Vista.

Mr. McCoy was born Sept. 3, 1924, in Norton to the late George and Margaret (Maher) McCoy.

He lived in Denver for many years where he was retired from the railroad. He moved to Bella Vista to be with family.

He is survived by two sisters,

Maxine Wyatt and Ann Kluender, both of Bella Vista; and two brothers, William McCoy, Great Bend; and Charles McCoy, Nampa, Idaho.

There will be a private vigil at Rollins Funeral Home in Rogers, Ark. Burial will be at Norton Cemetery.

A memorial mass will be held in Bella Vista at a later date.
