

WILSONVILLE

By VELMA HOLTZE and LAURIE LAWS

Margene and Velma Holtze drove to Omaha on Oct. 16 where they attended the state convention of the Christian Church of Nebraska. The convention theme was “Winds of Change”. They attended workshops and heard some excellent speakers on this topic. They enjoyed visiting with Steven Jergensen at North Platte who was also attending the convention. He is still serving the North Platte Christian Church where he went when he left Wilsonville after serving the Baptist-Christian Church. He is going on a mission trip to Ghana with other ministers in January. He sent greetings to all those who knew him.

Margene and Velma returned thru Beatrice where they visited Janene Holtze, a college student there. Her parents, Jim and Becky Holtze, were also visiting her. They had attended the Nebraska Volleyball game on Saturday and were overnight guests of her sister, Sherrill and Jim Hayes, in Lincoln. Margene and Velma also visited with Kendra Hoagland and family in Hastings before coming home.

Caroline Simmons and Caden of Holdrege visited in the home of her grandmother, Velma Holtze, and also with her aunt Becky Holtze on Oct. 10.

Friday afternoon visitors in the home of Velma Holtze were her cousins Albert Michals of Kennewick, Wash., and Norma Frandsen, Cambridge.

Several Wilsonville people were in Cambridge for the flu shot clinic this past week.

Cassie Lewis from Florida recently spent several days with her parents. While home she worked on wedding preparations, enjoyed the Nebraska football game in Lincoln and seeing friends and family at church on Sunday. Her parents, and Kathy Lewis hosted a dinner on Sunday. Joining them were Gary, Karen, Ben, Nick and Alicia Brown and Cody Moore, Dane and Kits Ahlmeyer, Kenny Sears, Andy Lewis and Lisa Minnick, Mae and Ira Wieranga, Dixie Menke and Bev and Cecil Parker. Phil Menke was a breakfast guest due to harvest and Nancy Minnick joined them for dessert and afternoon visiting. They returned Cassie to Omaha on Monday for her flight home. Andy Lewis returned to college in Lincoln on Tuesday after his fall break. The Baptist-Christian Church congregation were pleasantly surprised Sunday morning to have both of their executive ministers join them for worship services. The Rev. Kenneth Moore, Lincoln, representing the Christian Church and Susan Glues, Omaha of the Baptist Church had planned this to show the state support for the unity of the two churches in Wilsonville. This is the only place in the state where these two denominations have united into one church. Both spoke briefly during the service. Another special feature during the service was the White Cross and Tree of Sharing dedication service planned by White Cross Chairman, Alice Kasson. The many gifts dedicated are divided among several local as well as denominational ministries. It was appropriate that Arlene Rice share some of the conditions and needs in Haiti from the hurricane rampage. Some of the things will go to the Haiti work in view of the fact that this month has five Sundays. The church is planning a Fifth Sunday fellowship dinner this Oct. 31 immediately following the worship service.

The Rev. Moore and Susan Gillies were Cambridge cafe guests of Velma and Margene Holtze following the service. Connie Wilson is driving to her father's home near Wichita, this Monday to be with her father when her stepmother has surgery on Tuesday.

Velma Holtze entertained with Halloween stories at the Assisted Living in Beaver City on Wednesday afternoon.

The Cambridge football team will be playing their first game in competition for state title again on Thursday afternoon at Cambridge against Hemingford.

After several damp cloudy days, Friday and Saturday were typical fall days. The farmers are in the harvest fields getting it out as fast as possible.

United Methodist Women

The October meeting of the United Methodist Women was held in the church on Oct. 21. Carole Volker of Humboldt was a guest. President Lillian Lemaster opened the meeting with the purpose and prayer. Lelia Lang gave an Upper Room report. Nadeane Haag reported on several meetings and announced that the District Superintendent's annual Conference will be held Nov. 16.

The Rev. Malchow gave an interesting lesson on activities of the prophet, Elisha. Scriptures that were used were from Kings 1 and 2. Lunch was served by Lelia Lang.

Double Eight Club

Double Eight Club met Oct. 20 at the home of Adeline Ballou. Adeline conducted the business meeting. Lelia Lang presented the program “October Is...”. She related many activities, which are associated with October. Several members read school time anecdotes. She used the October issue of Nebraska Life magazine to highlight Nebraska football and the Frank Lloyd Wright House in McCook. She also showed some old autograph books.

The hostess, assisted by Dorothy Ankenman, served a delicious lunch. The November meeting will be with Kristi Witte.
