Living Trust Seminar

Learn how a "Living Trust" can Protect Your Estate from Probate and Estate Taxes.

Learn how to protect your children's inheritance and keep your family property from ending up with someone else's family.

- If you don't have a Living Trust
- Your estate will go through probate, so that the court can distribute your assets. This is an expensive process that can take more than a year.
  - The details of your estate and your estate plan will become public record, so that anyone can examine what you had and what you left to whom.
  - In the event you become incapacitated, the court may appoint someone to manage your assets or the court directs.

- If you do have a Living Trust
- Your loved ones will inherit your estate immediately upon your death, without the expense and delay of probate.
  - Your estate will not become public record, so details concerning your assets and your estate plan will remain completely private.
  - In the event you become incapacitated, your designated trustee will manage your assets according to your instructions.
