Wilsonville woman represents Nebraska

By JOY STALDER

Ashley Rice, Miss Rodeo Nebraska, Wilsonville, was honored Saturday evening at a send-off party held at the Republican River Valley Event Center in McCook. The event was in preparation for her upcoming competition for the title of 2007 "Miss Rodeo America."

She has spent much of the last year and a half representing Nebraska and also promoting professional rodeo, the ag industry and Western heritage.

All this leads to her preparation for the ultimate competition at the national pageant to be held in Las Vegas, Nov. 25 to Dec. 2.

The fund-raiser for Ashley began with a Social Hour at 5 p.m., followed by dinner. As a finale, Ashley modeled her competition clothes in a one-woman fashion review. It was Ashley's final fund-raiser to raise expenses for her trip to Las Vegas.

Ashley will compete in horsemanship on horseback, in a written test and in personal interviews. Her speech will be about her home state of Nebraska. Ashley, a redhead, will model an emerald green dress on stage as well as hats, shirts, jeans, belts and boots provided by the Wrangler Company.

Ashley is the 21-year old daughter of Tony and Patty Rice, Wilsonville, and is a sister to Whitney and Catlin and to Travis who is married to Christie.

If Ashley wins the title of Miss Rodeo America, it will open other doors in the future for her.

In the event that her career ends in Las Vegas, Ashley will always remember the experiences her title as Miss Rodeo Nebraska brought to her life.

Soup supper and quilting combine for quilters meeting

By BEVERLY KINDLER

Members of the Heritage Quilt Club and guests met at the Long Island Community Building for a soup supper and regular meeting on Nov. 6. Guests were Lottie Wiltfong, Karen Gebhard, Beth Lee, Kathy Lee, Nancy Arehart, Carol Wyatt and Alexine Paden.

Following the soup supper, Regina Stark, president, conducted the business meeting. Plans were announced for a quilt display at the Norton Public Library starting in January. Freda Weyand showed examples of small quilts for workshops to be held in January.

"Show and Tell" featured blocks of the month (the windmill design); red and white blocks for the club quilt, and school house blocks. Quilted projects displayed by members included table runners, a flannel quilt, bed-size quilts, wall hangings for Thanksgiving and Christmas and a small quilt done in a star motif. Ilene Ankenman showed the quilt she had assembled with "Trash to Treasure" blocks made by members last year. Shari Archer and Anise Gill illustrated blocks they had designed using basic nine patch and bow tie motifs. They had participated in workshops when the Quilt Bus was in Oberlin in late October.

Names of members who had made schoolhouse blocks were collected and two names were drawn with each to receive a set of 10 blocks. The lucky quilters were Karen Glenn and Ilene Ankenman.

Janet Kugler of Quilters Delight, Holdrege, presented the program, "Making Panel Quilts". She showed examples of many ways to use panels in quilted projects as well as in garments. She demonstrated a variety of borders, place mats, towels, ornaments, table runners, boxes, mesh bags and drawstring bags. She showed how to make a walker caddy by cutting apart, twisting and turning and rearranging. She also displayed fun sweatshirts and/or T-shirts featuring a variety of ways that panel pieces could be used.

Hostesses for the meeting were Shari Archer, Jo Pakkebieer, Irma Lee Gebhard and Lois Myers.

Free Soup Supper for our guests
Following the DVD

We are joining with Times Square Church of New York City, New York. On September 18, 2005 thousands of ordinary citizens and military officers gathered together with one mind and one purpose; to honor and encourage our troops serving in areas of conflict around the world. A DVD was made of this special service "Salute to the Troops" and is available for free to be sent to anyone serving in our armed forces around the world. On the deck of the USS Intrepid, Pastor Carter Conlon delivered a message informing our troops how much God loves them; he reminds them that they are not forgotten and the churches in America are lifting them regularly before the Lord in prayer.

We are taking names of men and women who currently serve our country in the armed forces. We will be sending those names to Times Square Church. They, in turn, will send this DVD containing its message of hope out to each person for free. We are also receiving free will donations to help fund this worldwide outreach.

Make checks to CrossRoads Church.

100% of the proceeds go to Times Square Church to fund this DVD ministry to our troops.
