Home one of three on annual tour

(Continued from Page 1) The guest bedroom is decorated in a Victorian motif while the spacious master bedroom is a soft, sage green. Mrs. Schrum has used border paper on the ceiling for an unusual effect. The master bathroom has been updated with ceramic tile floors, a double vanity sink and etched windows.

A cozy family room in the basement is well-used by Mr. and Mrs. Schrum. Another feature of the home is a dream storage room in the basement with floor-to-ceiling storage compartments.

The outside of the home is just as appealing as the inside. Located on a large corner lot, the home has a landscaped and terraced back

The Schrums have four grown children. Jeffery Schrum lives in Fort Collins, Colo., LeeAnn Schrum, in Tucson, Ariz, Sheryl Schofield, in Phoenix, Ariz. and Clare Leahy, in Port Orchard, Wash. They have two grandchildren: Candace Schrum and Jessica Active retirees, the Schrums help their community by carrying meals for the Norton Senior Center and volunteering their time with Prairieland Foods.
