All three girls — Marisa and Darcy, both sixth graders; and Haley, a fourth grader — will represent Eisenhower Elementary in the Norton County Spelling Bee. The Eisenhower bee was held a little differently this year. Small spelling bees were held in each fourth, fifth and sixth grade classroom. The four top spellers from each room were advanced to the school bee for a total of 32 students participating.

Those 32 students making it to the school bee were: fourth grade — Molly Maddy, Andrew Bashford, Alma Clavijo, Nicole Tacha, Morgan Griffey, Gavin Lively, Quinton Porter, Shelby Mulford, Michaela Sorenson, Audrie Burge, Christopher Reynolds, Peyton Renner, Lexi Hartwell, Sierra Griffith, Jesika Smith and Haley Branek; fifth grade: Grant Gordon, Kenzie Esslinger, Tyler Kuhn and Hannah Park; and sixth grade — Ethan Ross, Ashley Hildebrand, Hannah Pollock, Kristen Burge, Marisa Maddy, Zachary Esslinger, Maggie Spradlin, Darcy Bainter, Johnnye Ruder, Desiray Skrdlant, Leif Carlson and Cody Temmel.

Judging this year were Lynn Hehn, Joan Hale, Pam Menagh and JaLynn Urban. Counselor Melissa McClain was the commentator.

Parents, friends and members of the community were encouraged to watch Eisenhower’s spelling bee, which was held in the cafeteria.

Mrs. Slaby said, “We have lots of members who are good workers. And we are especially grateful to the public. Norton has been so good to support our efforts.”

Tuesday evening the club served about 150 people their choice of chili, vegetable or chicken-noodle soups.

Scholarship chairman Ted Sanko said Shane Miller, the school counselor, have applications for the Rotary Scholarship. Mr. Sanko said last year there were 23 applicants. He said each year the club awards two scholarships to university-bound students and one to a student who wants to attend a vocational school.

Drunk driving not worth the risk

Safety Administration says the core audience for major sports events, like the Super Bowl, includes males in the 18 to 34 age range. The safety administration said this group is also the most likely to be involved in automobile crashes or drive drunk. Additionally, they are the least likely to wear safety belts.

Mr. Bodyk said designating a sober driver before the party begins and making sure friends don’t drive drunk are two things that should be at the top of everyone’s list to help avoid a traffic crash or an arrest for drunk driving.

Will the Patriots complete a perfect season Sunday? Or will the Giants put a notch in their belts. The drama unfolds in Glendale, Ariz., with kickoff slated for 5:18 p.m. (CST).
