Huskies lose by three to Stockton

By Dana Paxton
On September 12, the Northern Valley Huskies played a close football game at home against Stockton but came up short in the fourth quarter with a 33-30 loss.

The first quarter was a good one for the Huskies. Quarterback Austin Herman scored the first touchdown of the game with a one yard run. The run for the extra points failed. In the last six seconds of the first quarter Dusty Eagleburger ran a 53 yard touchdown and then turned around and ran it in for two more. This ended the first quarter with the Huskies leading 14-0.

The second quarter started with Stockton running a five yard touchdown, followed by a failed run for the extra points. This brought the score to 14-6. Eagleburger then ran another big 54 yard touchdown, followed for another run for two more leaving the score at 22-6. Halfway through the quarter, Stockton scored again with a 23 yard field goal ending the first half 22-9.

The only action in the third quarter came when Herman had a six yard touchdown. He also ran it in for two more, bring the score to 30-9.

The fourth quarter was the turning point for Stockton. They had a 15 yard touchdown run and backed it up with a kick for two. This brought the tally to 30-16. They then turned around and had a touchdown and the extra points were good and this brought the score to 30-24. With only three seconds on the clock, Stockton kicked a field goal and won the game 33-30.

Coach Chuck Fessenden said, “We pretty well had control of the game going into the fourth quarter. Unfortunately, we lost Eagleburger to an injury. Also running for Norton and their places and times were: senior Dustyna Sprigg, 23rd, 18:55; junior Abby Bainter, 26th, 19:12.

Freshman Marisa Maddy ran the junior varsity race for Norton and was the winner in a personal record time of 20:08.

“Tonight’s race brought out areas in which we need to improve,” said Norton head cross country coach George Rossi. “Having Colby beat us will, hopefully, serve as a learning tool. Our girls gave great effort and were competitive, especially at the end of the race.

“Our girls are disappointed with second and I really believe they will use this as a motivator to get better and that will only help us down the road. Every race we have coming up will provide us with challenging teams. We need to step up to that challenge. The only way to get there is to work harder than we have in practice.”

The top ten girls finishers were: Emilea Finley, Colby, 16:14, first; Katrina Kaus, Colby, 16:48, second; Kendra Pfannenstiel, Ness City, 16:54, third; Astrid Moen, Norton, 17:04, fourth; Eileen Mick, Osborne, 17:05, fifth; Taylor Gabel, Ness City, 17:06, sixth; Jessie Rubottom, Ness City, 17:07, seventh; Katherine Kaus, Colby, 17:24, eighth; Darcy Bainter, Norton, 17:25, ninth; Cassidy Rathbun, Plainville, 17:33, tenth.

Also running for Norton and their place and times were: freshman Alec Hager, 29th, 20:07 and senior Kegan Vanover, 31st, 20:10.

Running in the junior varsity race for Norton and their places and times were: senior Cole Archer, tenth, 22:18; sophomore Ryan Bainter, 16th, 22:53; freshman Chris Chambers, 22nd, 23:52; freshman Garret Otter, 27th, 24:26.

“The boys race was tough for us tonight,” said coach Rossi. “Ness City has a very good team but I feel we did not have our best race individually.

“The gap between Zach and the rest of the team is too great right now.

“Overall, our times tonight were not as good as they were last year. Hill City is a challenging course and I think, at times, we were just not aggressive enough.

“It will be interesting to see how we take from what we learned tonight and apply it to practice and hopefully improve both as a team and as individual runners.”

Gunnar Hays of Northern Valley continued to run well, finishing third individually with a time of 18:26.

The top ten boys runners were: Brady Johnson, Plainville, 17:35, first; Kyle Schauvliege, Ness City, 18:05, second; Gunnar Hays, Northern Valley, 18:26, third; Luke Friess, Hoxie, 18:31, fourth; Tyler Shields, Oberlin, 18:32, fifth; Wyatt Beckman, Ness City, 18:37, sixth; Zach Hartwell, Norton, 18:51, seventh; Mario Lopez, Phillipsburg, 18:57, eighth; Connor Shoemaker, Lakeside, 18:58, ninth; Dustin Reed, Colby, 19:02, tenth.

Jon Compton of Northern Valley placed runner-up in the junior varsity race with a time of 20:51.
