

Norton businessman inducted into Hall of Fame

Fifty years ago, Norton businessman Ted Sanko was the starting quarterback for the undefeated, untied 9-0 Omaha North High School football team and, on Sept. 25, he and his teammates and coaches received the ultimate honor for their playing days.

During impressive ceremonies in Lincoln, they were inducted into the Nebraska High School Sports Hall of Fame.

Fourteen of the 40 members of the team, including Ted, were present for the 18th annual Induction and Awards Ceremony.

Ed Keith, who was a first year teacher at Omaha North in 1961, served as the spokesman for the team during the ceremonies.

"The balance of speed and toughness of the offense and defense, as well as cohesiveness and experience, became evident in the first four games as the defense held the opponents to an average of just under five points per game," said Keith.

"The opposition fared no better in October where the highlight of the campaign was a hard-fought victory over Creighton Prep in front of 15,000 at Municipal Stadium, ending a Prep 19 game winning streak.

"The following week, in the last game of the season, Benson High School, with some very talented players, and in front of 9,000 fans, scored more points on the Vikings than any other team but still went down to defeat 30-20. In the final tally, two Vikings were named to the All-State team and four were named to the All Inter-City team.

"Coach Leonard Bond had been right in feeling optimistic about the season. Successful, winning teams require competitiveness, leadership, toughness, confidence and, of course, athleticism. The 1961 Viking football team demonstrated the above characteristics, in every game that year, and they set the standard for the next 50 years. Future Omaha North High football teams would enjoy several successful seasons and display many talented individuals. But, no Viking team since 1961 has exhibited a perfect season of no losses and no ties.

"The song we sing at the end of the year, 'Auld Lang Syne', asks should those we knew and love be forgotten and never thought of. No, says the song. We'll toast to them and always keep them close. The most serious message in the song is that the past is important; we mustn't forget it. The old always has something for us."

Ted also played tennis and basketball in high school where he was an individual state champion on his Omaha North state champion tennis team. His high school record earned him an athletic scholarship in tennis at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. He was a four-year letterman in tennis for the Huskers.

Ted and wife, Connie, are owners of the Garrett Plumbing, Heating and Electric in Norton. She is the former Connie Hall. Her parents, the late Carroll and Evelyn Hall, were the longtime owners of Hall's Clothing in Norton.

The football helmet and tennis racquets hanging on the wall in Ted Sanko's downtown Norton office bring back many fond memories of his high school and college playing days.
