

In the cage

Friday afternoon’s Norton Homecoming parade featured the senior class float with a cage where the Norton Blue Jay mascot and the Colby Eagles mascot could square off. The Blue Jays came out victorious Friday evening on the football field in an overtime game, 26-23.

Parade and Pep Rally

On Friday afternoon, students, parents and fans got into the winning spirit with the annual downtown parade and pep rally.

The parade began at the junior high with the marching band leading the class floats and convertibles in which nominees for king and queen were riding.

The pep rally began where the parade ended on the lawn of the Norton County Courthouse. The rally included performances by the dance team and cheerleaders accompanied by the Norton band as well as a humorous skit.

Featured speaker

It is a tradition for parents of Norton senior football players to be chosen to speak to the Homecoming pep rally.

Featured speaker was Scott Ellis, 1984 graduate of Norton Community High School and father of senior player Drew Ellis.

“There are four things you need to know,” said Scott. “You owe it to your community that really supports you, your coaches, your teammates and ultimately yourself to defeat Colby tonight.

“I challenge you to play your very best.

“Who’s the best?”

The large crowd answered in unison, “The Blue Jays!”
