Youth attend tractor safety training course

In 1970, the United States Department of Labor declared agricultural tasks as hazardous for children under the age of 16. With certain exemptions, this law made employment of youth under the age of 16 at these jobs illegal for anyone other than their parents or legal guardian.

The long withstanding tradition of youth finding summer employment on local farms prompted the development of the Hazardous Occupations Training (tractor safety) program to train and certify youth 14 and 15 years of age to work in agricultural occupation for someone other than their parents.

Recent interpretations of the law also require youth to have this certification to work for family partnerships, family corporations and grandparents. In the case of family partnerships and corporations, even when one partner is the parent, the youth technically works for the corporation, and therefore must have the certification. The training is also available for youth working on their parent's farms as well as any rural resident or farm worker who desires a refresher course on farm safety.

To meet the requirements of the law, youth attended a multi-county Hazardous Occupations Training held Saturday at Colby Implement in Colby. The training was held from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Over 20 youths from Cheyenne, Sherman, Wallace, Rawlins, Thomas and Logan counties attended. Those attending from Cheyenne County were Emily Elfers, Mark Coon, Travis Rogers, Taylor Rogers and Jacob Brubaker.

Cougar Activities

By Bru and the Crew

The Cheylin Junior/Senior High Band traveled to Colby last Thursday to the annual state music competition. The Cougar band woke up bright and early in order to make good their appointment with their judges.

The band performed well receiving an overall rating of 1 and individual ratings of 1, 1 and 2 (the judging scale is based on 1 being the best, 5 being the worst). There were some concerns about the band lacking experience, however their performance reflected well on the school, as did the choir.

The students received a well-deserved reward as they were allowed to spend the rest of the day watching the other bands and choirs. Congratulations to all our band and choir members on their stellar performances.

Prom provided another welcomed break for the Cheylin students. First came promenade, which gave all the young ladies and gentlemen a chance to dress to impress for the viewers.

The seniors, juniors, and their dates were then provided with a spectacular meal. They were then joined by the rest of the school for a night of energized dancing, scrumptious food, and an overall wild time; but, not too wild.

Any chance of things getting out of hand was quickly curbed by an excellent after-prom, or they were at least set back until 4 o'clock.... I'm only kidding folks we've got good quality kids here at Cheylin! Thanks to the junior class for the excellent prom and the Booster Club for the after prom!!!!

The golf team prep's to head back to the east on Thursday, April 26, to compete at McCracken. Kanan Reeh will be the Cougar's best chance for a first place finish individually.

However, senior Wil Orten and juniors Adam Orten and Reuben Razo are more than capable of the top spot. This will truly be an interesting meet for the Cougar golf team. Results will be available next week.

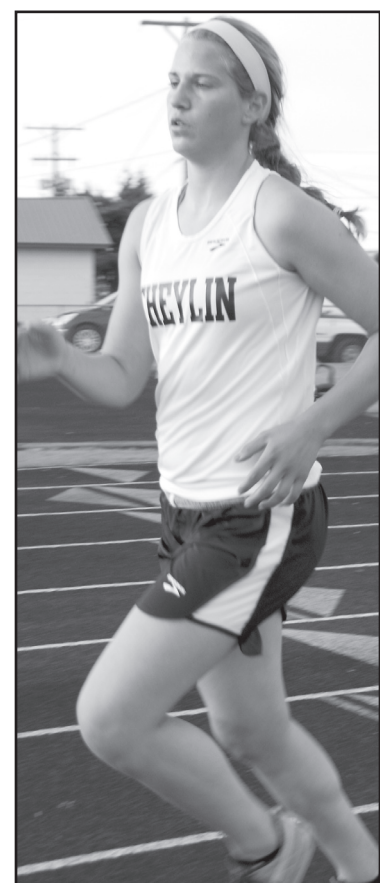

This week we'll take a mid-season look at the Cougar Track team. The Cougars have a small team, but there is talent all around and the coaches have been doing the best they can with that talent. However, two athletes have really stuck out....

First is senior Forest Burr. Burr gave excellent performances in all sports as a junior and would've been one of the best basketball players in the league as a senior if it wasn't for an un-timely injury. Now that track season has started Burr has come back with a vengeance and is a regular medalist in shot and discus. Any voice saying she isn't the athlete she was before the injury have been silenced by her performance this track season.

The second is an athlete whose name always comes up as one of the elite performers no matter what season it is, and that's our Ethan Young. Young was named an all-league end in Football and was an all-league forward in basketball. The coaches at Cheylin have become to expect nothing less than best and then some from Young, who's a performer in the game and a leader out of the game. But could he perform during track season as well? He can and he has with many medals and rarely finishing out of the top 8. Young is attracting attention for his athletic ability once again. He is truly an all-around athlete.

As always I encourage everyone to attend as many Cougar sporting events as possible. If you want to see for yourself how well our athletes can perform, get out there and attend some meets! GO COUGARS!
