Bird City craft fair set for Oct. 27

It's craft time in Bird City again.

Be sure to stop by the Cheylin Grade School gym at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 27, to purchase your holiday gifts and goodies. We are sold out again this year with 25 vendors, said Barb Gerdes, coordinator. It is a great way to find new friends and crafters.

Most of the consignors are back for another year along with several new faces, she said. There are vendors coming from Colorado, southwestern and central Kansas and Nebraska, along with the local crafters.

New items are woven rugs, stained glass, Serenity jewelry, shadow boxes and wreaths.

Along with these are the popular cloth books by Lily Ruth Edmonston and baked goods.

Most all booths this year, Mrs. Gerdes said, are handmade.

"I have tried to keep it as much crafts as possible," she said.

There is a lot of variety that the vendors bring into the community. It is a great time to get ideas for Thanksgiving and Christmas without having to spend a lot. It also shows off all the talent in this area.

The Kids' Korner will also be at the show.

"It is a great way for kids to find their crafts and keep busy while moms shop. The cost of the Kids' Korner is $5 and they can make as many crafty things as possible. The cost goes to the workers for keeping an eye on the kids as well as replenishing the supplies for next year.

"The Kids' Korner has gone over really well in the past 5 years," Mrs. Gerdes said.

The kids can glue, color, use markers and make all kinds of things. All of which is theirs to take home.

Shoppers want to plan to eat lunch while at the show. Tina Sager will be serving lunch for the shoppers' convenience.
