

Girls present play on March 7

The St. Francis junior high will be presenting their annual musical on Thursday, March 7, in the high school auditorium. Curtain time for “The Rockin’ Tale of Snow White” is 7 p.m.

Everyone knows the story of Snow White and the Seven Dwarves, but “The Rockin’ Tale of Snow White” is a fresh comedy adaptation of the classic Brothers Grimm fairy tale. In addition to the well-known cast of the kind princess, evil queen, multiple dwarves and the morally conflicted Huntsman, this musical introduces some fresh faces such as the rhyme-happy ladies-in-waiting and a stick-in-the-mud governmental representative out to ruin everyone’s good time. The songs feature a mixture of musical styles including rock and roll, hip-hop, doo-wop, rap and more.

Members of the cast include Jenna Confer, Danielle Frink, Makayla Rogers, Katie Schmid, Sophie White, Reagan Beims, Hanna Bracelin, Emileigh Dinkel, Korey Jenkins, Tressa LaBarge, Jylan Laten, Mallery Mills, Jessica Pacheco, Devin Patton, Janeth Perez, Zoe Sund-strom, Madison Tice, Matthisen Witzel, Taryn Zwegardt, Sayed Fierro, Nick Paulsen, and Jonathan Salazar. They are directed by Debbie Fiala.

“The Rockin’ Tale of Snow White” is written by Barbara Lennon, with music by Bill Francoeur. It is produced by special arrangement with Pioneer Drama Service, Englewood, Colo.

There will be an admission charge at the door. See ad for more information.

Glass class set

Kim Zwegardt, local fused glass artist, will be teaching two glass classes on Sunday, March 10, at the Cheyenne Center for Creativity, 109 Quincy, St. Francis.

Fused Glass 101 runs from 2-4 p.m. This is an introductory class that includes how to cut glass, design elements, the fusing process as well as “hands on” making and designing several small pieces of glass.

From 4-6 p.m., Kim will shift emphasis with a class on making dichroic glass jewelry. Several pendants will be made by each student.

Enrollment is limited. There is a fee per class which includes all materials. It is recommended that the introductory class be taken before the jewelry class unless you have previously taken Glass 101. For more information call 785-332-0215.

Kim’s glass art can be seen at Cuppa Joe Espresso or by special appointment at her studio.

and hold sidewalk sales. There will be a farmers market and a silhouette trap shoot.

The money-making committee was represented by Dennon Flemming who had several suggestions including holding a community garage sale in conjunction with the car show. She said Eddy and Sherry Schultz had agreed to let them use their building to store items in until the day of the sale. The committee would mark the items and the sale would be sold on the grade school playground.

Mrs. Meyer said Butch Ewing had offered to auctioneer. Mrs. Flemming said they thought that a garage sale would go over better because people could come from the car show.

They had a list of businesses including the local businesses as well as area and corporate businesses that they planned to talk to. Mrs. Flemming said they didn’t want to approach the same businesses twice so, if someone, like Travis Jensen, who had talked to Mike Callicrate, called on a business for donations, then call one of the committee and let them know so they wouldn’t call on them.

There were several other suggestions for money making but they also thought it was important that people be recognized for the amount of money they gave. Possibly there could be a plaque.

The money not used by the 125th was discussed. Some thought it should be given to support a community project such as the swimming pool. Others thought it should be put in a fund and saved for the 150 celebration. No decision was made.

More information

Only part of the activities for the week of June 11 have been mentioned above. As the times and dates of the activities become more definite, there will be more information listed in The Herald.
