Couple see sights in New York City

Bill and Donna Dible were in New York City July 21-26 along with daughters and grandchildren: Susan Pfrang, Kehley and Corbin of Goff, and Anita Passantino, Alexis and Gabriella of Leawood. They stayed at the Marriott Marquis Hotel on Broadway, where Kehley Pfrang participated in the Dance America competitions which were held there. Besides attending some of the dance competitions, they went sightseeing around New York and saw a Broadway show.

Patty Ann Casey of Wichita is visiting her parents, Lawrence and Zula Horinek this week. Wednesday evening guests were Summer Schubert and children, Gary Delzeit and Larry Horinek, all from Colby.

Jack and Mary Minnick of Wichita were guests of Cleda Moeder last weekend. On Saturday they all attended the 35th wedding anniversary, reception and dance for Darrel and Carlene Bruggemann in Leoville.

BREWSTER LIONS

At our last meeting, Vice-president Bill Selby filled in for President Nate Reid. He did slip a little with the bulletin question. Lion Bob was able to name two of the 5 past District Governors from Brewster and their year in office. Bill forgot that Bob was in charge of the homecoming float last fall and that was one of the things he put on the side of the float.

Last year's club service and money raising projects were reviewed and discussed. Several new projects were suggested and more ideas are encouraged. The board will further review the projects before bringing a list to the club for approval.

New membership is also a big concern. We need new ideas for attracting new members. Increased membership would be good for the community and the club. If we can get people involved in the club, they have fun, become involved in the community, and contribute to the good of the community. Bring your membership ideas to the membership committee.

The Aug. 8 meeting starts at 8 p.m. again. The club is preparing the meal; so that should mean a good basic meal of barbecued steak, baked potatoes, tossed salad, bread, and ice cream. Somehow, our new District Governor Marvin Greenburg got wind of the steak meal and decided to make his official visit. Hopefully, we will have good turnout to welcome him back to Brewster.

Madison Schmidt of Hays; Denni Barton of Colby; Shanna Koggie of Colby; Nichelle Burger of Colby; Kayla and Bailey Brown of Hays; Ashley, Samantha, and Lucas Schnider of Salina; Brittany, Allie and Justin Barton of Colby.

Out-of-town friends and relatives in attendance were: Angie Bock and Lee Nichols of St. Francis; Trish Warta of Wichita; Greg Woolf, Zach and Lexie of Eudora; Kyle Schissler of Colby; Charles and Joyce Blau of Marienthal; John Blau of Leoti; Jim Snowder, Naomi Brooks, and Barbara Bradford of Pueblo, Colo.; Delbert Majors and June Kerns of Oakley; Mike and Kathy Blau of Garden City; Roger Blau of Hoxie; Doug and Mary Blau and family of Cedar Crest, N.M.; Fritz Blau of Ashland Dale and Minnie Deaver of Levant; Ray and Juanita Repshire of Russell Springs; Terry Pierson of Westminster, Colo.; Steve and Jean Cook of Harper; Jim and Ruby Fees of Colorado Springs; Jerri Griffin of Hutchinson; Ike Griffin of Levant; Kathleen Hopson of Loveland, Colo.; Dianne Wilcox of Aurora, Colo.; Emmaline Petrasich of San Pedro, Calif.; Charles and Kathy Barton of Gower, Mo.; Jay and Susan Woofter of Hoxie; and Jerry and Judy Thornberg of Goodland.

with new faces coming to and from. I cordially invite any of the new folks, regardless of age, to stop in at the Senior Center and get acquainted. It's a sure way to become a member of the community and maybe learn something about the town you have chosen to live in. Hope to see you, soon.

Sounds like an age-old excuse, but I misplaced my news from last week, so I'm just a little late with a column. Of course, most of it dealt with wishing we'd get some rain. As the old saying goes, be careful what you wish for. We got some rain last night, and we also got some wind. Brewster looks a little like a disaster area. We also had a little taste of how it used to be when the lights went out. This was the first time in many years that the electricity was off for more than a few minutes. I surely didn't envy the linemen having to get out in such horrid lightning and wind. A big 'thanks' to all the folks that do their best to help us get through the storms and such without losing the creature comforts we have grown so used to.

Dreaded words – school is just around the corner. The kids are all so busy getting ready for fair, now, they probably aren't thinking about school books. We had a style review here on Friday, and there was certainly an abundance of talent on hand. Such pretty outfits and the matching of accessories shows that these young people are learning about matching and colors. They also brought some very tasty treats. The Senior Center comes to life very time the kids come in for a project, and we look forward to each one.

Bonnie Reid reports that former resident Violet Brown of Pauls Valley, Okla., is attending a family reunion in Wisconsin this month. It is good to know that Violet is feeling good and able to travel like that.

Mariam Allison of Oberlin has returned to her home after spending several weeks in a convalescent home. Mariam is a former resident, and it is always good to hear that our friends are doing well even when they move to other areas.

Just got word this morning that former resident Hazel Tracy, had some major surgery last week. We hope she is doing fine, and I'm sure she would appreciate hearing from her friends. I remember Hazel fixing the 50th anniversary cake for LaVelle and Marie, and when Roger and I went to pay for it, she said that they had been such good neighbors to her, she wanted to furnish it for them. Just one of the nice memories we gather about people over the years. so, Hazel, we hope you have a speedy recovery.

The Levant reunion is just around the corner, on Aug. 5, from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Ramada Inn in Colby. Inace Parker said she heard from her brother, Elmer Johnson, and he is planning on coming from California to enjoy the gathering, and also to go to Fort Hays to remember all the good times there.

Edson and Goodland are also having reunions the first weekend of August. The fair will be winding down, so there should be lots of people on hand at the different gatherings.

Several families have moved in the last few weeks. Matt and Sharon Pounds and family have moved to Kiowa. The Garner family has moved to Kinsley. The O'Connor family will be moving to Sharon Springs. We wish the families well. The Paul Bange family has moved to Colby, but Paul is still at the bank, here. As I said earlier, we are interested in meeting the new families, so hope you will come in.
