Rexford resident chosen as delegate

Ida Robben of Rexford has been chosen to take part in a process that will chart the future of a Royal Neighbors of America, a 107-year-old fraternal life insurance organization and leader in the financial services industry. Robben will represent the Rexford chapter as a state convention delegate on April 13. At the convention, the delegates will select the members who will convene in June in San Diego for Royal Neighbor's national convention to elect a national president, national secretary, and five national directors to serve a four-year term as members of the board. "As a fraternal benefit organization, we have a democratic form of government," said National President Karen E. Anagnos, FICF. "Our rich history of strong leaders is what has kept Royal Neighbors a solid and viable fraternal and financial services organization, one that focuses on taking care of its members. We want that tradition to continue, and we believe these delegates will help us uphold our founding principles." During the convention, the delegates also share information about the activities of their respective chapters, award scholarships, and welcome special guests from the organization or community. Royal Neighbors of America is a national fraternal benefit life insurance society headquartered in Rock Island, Ill. It was chartered in 1895 by a group of visionary women who were dedicated to offering insurance benefits and volunteer activities. Today it has more than 220,000 members and $2 billion of insurance in force, with approximately 600 active chapters.

Internet changeover takes effect Wednesday

After a week's delay, we at nwkansas.com are ready to move forward with improvements to our system. We were forced to delay this change because of a mistake by our supplier. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

On Wednesday, April 10, we will change our Internet source connection to Southwestern Bell Internet Service. Bell promises a faster and more efficient connection to the Internet, BUT the Domain Name Service numbers (DNS numbers) in your computer need to be changed that day. You should have received a letter and an email with the new numbers and how to change your computer.

This is important. Unless you make this change at 2 p.m. or after on April 10, your service will not work. You will be unable to view e-mail or web pages.

WARNING: Do not make this change before April 10. Your service will not work with the new numbers until about 2 p.m. that day.

If you have trouble, call The Colby Free Press or Tom Betz or one of his helpers at 785-899-2338. We will have extended hours that day and later in the week and do our best to help you through this change. Better Internet service is our goal. Please bear with us through this changeover.
