Wieland and Collett exchange wedding vows

Dalene Wieland and Tony Collett were united in marriage during a candlelight ceremony on March 30, 2002, at The Chateaux at Fox Meadows in Broomfield, Colo.

Jim Myers, Colby, brother-in-law of the groom, served as celebrant for the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Denis and Diana Wieland, Colby, and Carol McGill, Garnett. The groom is the son of Ed and Sharon Dunn, Colby, and Butch Collett, Richmond, Ind.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin gown with a detachable cathedral-length train. The fitted bodice and squared neckline were accentuated with alencon lace, pearls and beads. The bridal attire also included a handmade floor-length veil. Her jewelry included her great-grandmother's wedding band and pearl earrings given to her by her parents. She carried a bouquet of white roses, ranuncula, lisianthus, stephanotis with pearls, and ivy from a friend's wedding.

The bride's honor attendant was Sarah Jewett, Oro Valley, Ariz., friend of the couple. Other attendants included the bride's sisters, Denise Meier, Topeka, and Denita Rodgers, Olathe, and the groom's sister, Kelsey Dunn, Colby.

The best man was Barry Lancaster, Lawrence, friend of the couple. Groomsmen were Matt Brewer of Holton; Tom Grady, Denver; both friends of the couple, and Deni Wieland, Colby, brother of the bride.

Shelly Myers, Colby, sister of the groom, served as the bride's personal attendant and cousins of the bride, Coleena Ryan, Colby, and Karen Lindberg, Great Bend, served as the gift attendants.

Ushers were Tim Meier, Topeka, brother-in-law of the bride, Dan Nelson, Lakewood, Colo., and Robert Jacobs, Wichita, friends of the couple.

The bride is a graduate of Kansas State University, Manhattan, and Northeastern University, Boston, Mass. She is employed as a criminal intelligence analyst assigned to a federal law enforcement program in the Denver metropolitan area.

The groom is a graduate of Colby Community College and Washburn University, Topeka, and is a police agent with the Lakewood Police Department.

After a honeymoon in Vermont, the couple is at home in Denver.

Woofter and Bond unite in marriage

On May 4, 2002, Julie Woofter, daughter of Jay and Susan Woofter of Hoxie, became the bride of Jacob Bond, son of Tim and Nancy Bond, and Bill and Julie Goodrich of Omaha, Neb.

The outdoor evening wedding took place at Kemper Gardens in Blue Springs, Mo., with Larry Moffit of Omaha, Neb., officiating.

A string trio played a prelude of nuptial music on the garden lawn. Soloist Amanda Morales sang, "You Deserve It" by Madonna.

The groom's father, Tim Bond, read scripture chosen by the couple. Monarch butterflies were released as sign of unity by the bride and groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a tea length gown of satin designed by GiGi Delaney of Overland Park. Her bouquet was a cluster of brightly colored painted daisies.

Kellie Blossom of Overland Park, friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. Lindsey Woofter of Lawrence, was her bridesmaid. Olivia Bond, sister of the groom, of Omaha, was the flower girl.

Bruce Saxman of Menomenie, Wisc., friend of the groom, was best man. Also standing up for her brother was Sarah Bond of Omaha, Luke Bond, brother of the groom was ring bearer.

A reception immediately followed the wedding at Frondizi's

Mr. and Mrs. Bond

Restorante in Kansas City, Mo.

Honored guests were the bride's grandparents, Dale and Gladys Woofter of Hoxie, and Erwin and Wilma Thiele of Colby, and the groom's grandmother, Shirley Peterson of Clarinda, Iowa.

The bride was a 1994 graduate of Hoxie High School. She graduated from Kansas city Art Institute in 1998 with a Fine Arts Degree.

The groom graduated from Central High School in Omaha, Neb., in 1995 and from Doane College in Crete, Neb., in 1999 with a Fine Arts Degree.

The couple now reside in Kansas City where they are self-employed by Archival Design, a custom tile design business.
