

Giving out cookies

The Junior Girl Scout troops of Colby delivered Girl Scout cookies to the residents of Lantern Park Manor and Prairie Senior Living Complex this past week. Troop leader Jan Barnum said the girls wanted to give cookies to those who might not have the opportunity to otherwise buy them. Pictured above, Amanda Barnum and Christy Bolls give cookies to residents at Lantern Park Manor.

Winona correspondent is moving

This will be my last time of writing news articles as I have done for many years. I will be moving to Sharon Springs in April. I will miss your cooperation with giving me news items and hope you will support the new reporter, Jean Lowe of Winona.

I have received many compliments in the past and I truly appreciate it.

Lucille Bruns attended and enjoyed the Pride of the Prairie Orchestra Concerto Concert in Colby. It was entitled "Into the Joy of Spring." Denise Shoff of Winona was a horn soloist. Lucille reports it was excellent.

Saturday night, Judy Gfeller and Monte and Helen Stramel joined other family members at the home of Larry and Vonna Schertz in Monument. It was a birthday supper honoring their brother, Ron Stramel of Colby.

Staci Hansen, Kirsten and Kourtney of Marion are enjoying their spring break in Winona with David and Judy Gfeller and families.

Word was received that Maurice Martin of Quinter passed away on Sunday morning, March 16, at the Hays Medical Center. He was a relative of Robert and Norma Washburn. He and his wife, Ila, lived in Winona in the early 60s and trucked for Robert Washburn. Funeral services were held Wednesday, March 19 at 10 a.m. in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Park. Burial followed in the church cemetery.

Sunday, March 16, Roger and Marge Ausmus, celebrated Michele Werth and Louise Denning's birthdays by having a cookout. Attending were Larry, Michele, Wyatt and Layton Werth of Brewster, Lawrence and Louise Denning of Sharon Springs, Virgil Lavenstein of Sharon Springs and Monte and Helen Stramel of Winona.

Max Haverfield of Manhattan was a Sunday morning visitor of the Roger Ausmus family on March 16.

Rosalie Bussen received a phone call Monday that her grandson Darren Nicolet of Great Bend had broken his left collar bone in a 4-wheeler accident at the Little Sahara Sand Dunes in Oklahoma on Saturday evening. He will hear a harness for six week and has stopped him from his baseball practices.

On Saturday March 8, Joyce and Kyle Bartell, Bill Sroufe, Rhonda Fisher, Jessie Robin and Angie Grimes traveled to Topeka. They attended the Russian Czar Exhibit on display.

The Western Plains Arts Association sponsored a program at Oakley on Sunday, March 16. It was the Fly Dance Company. Those attending from this area were Pastors Glen and Barbara Patterson of Oakley, Paul and Dorothy Kirkham of Wallace, Jean Lowe, Erma Latham, Pauline Smith, Doneta Gates and Lucille Bruns of Winona.

The Winona United Methodist church choir will present an Easter Cantata on Palm Sunday, April 13 at 4 p.m. It is titled Alive in Christ. Mark it on your calendar.

Sunday evening visitors of Archie and Vela Moser were Brad, Linda and Candice Latham.

On Monday, Verla Moser visited her mother, Florence Schertz in Colby. She also attended a quilt class.

We were blessed with some very welcome moisture on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Rain reports ranged from 1.30 to 1.80 inches. No snow has arrived yet.

Club gathers in Oakley for March meeting

Daughters of the American Revolution

The John Athey Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met at the Colonial Steakhouse in Oakley at 10 a.m. on March 15.

Regent Irene Cressler opened the meeting in ritualistic form. Kay Webber read the President General's Message and Gladys gave the National Defense.

Roll call was answered with the latest genealogical discovery. Minutes were approved as read.

Florine Hurst gave the treasurers report and the bills were approved.

She also announced that Ruth Kelley Hayden's latest book had been sent to the Daughters of the American Revolution State Library.

Lillian Martin, president of the Logan County Historical and Genealogical Society presented the program on the material and how to use it. It is available at the Oakley Public Library. Interested parties can go to the library or call Lillian for help in finding your ancestors.

The next meeting will be held in Hoxie at Trish's Grill on April 26 at 10 a.m.

After lunch, everyone will go to the Pratt Ranch, where Don Rowilson will present the program on "Cowboyography."
