

Deaths

Esther R. Johnston

Esther R. Johnston, 91, a lifetime area resident, died today at Prairie Senior Living Complex in Colby. Services are pending with Harrison Chapel of Colby.

Quaid Collyer Huelsman

Quaid Collyer Huelsman, 3, died Friday, April 25, 2003, at his home in rural Winona. Services will be Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Harrison Chapel with Father Galen Long and Rev. James Bloom officiating. Burial will follow at the Sacred Heart Cemetery in Colby. Visitation will be today until 9 p.m. on Monday and 9 a.m. until service time on Tuesday at the funeral home.

He is survived by his parents Michael K. Huelsman and Delores Alison Siruta, both of Winona; a sister Mattea Huelsman; a brother Damen Siruta; grandparents Don and Cheryl Huelsman of Grinnell and Bob and Kathy Siruta of Le-vant; and great-grandfather Ken-neth Ribordy of Grainfield.

He was born Oct. 23, 1999. After his birth, he lived southeast of Atwood and later moved to Winona.

Memorials are suggested to the Butterfield Trail Association or to his brother and sister's educational fund.

James Cheney

James Cheney, 93, of Rexford, died Sunday, April 27, 2003, at the Logan County Hospital in Oakley. Services will be at the Rexford Community Church on Wednesday at 11 a.m. Lane Purcell will officiate and burial will follow at Hawkeye Cemetery, north of Rexford.

Visitation will be on Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. at Pauls Funeral Home in Selden and Wednesday from 9 a.m. until service time at the church.

Mr. Cheney is survived by his son Larry of Goodland and his daughter Carol Cheney of Oxford; seven grandchildren; three step-great-grandchildren; and 15 great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Joseph and Serena (Janssen) and his step-father John Merkel; two brothers, Carl and William and a sister Anna Barnett.

Mr. Cheney was born in the Hawkeye Community, north of Rexford on Dec. 23, 1909. He was raised in the area and was a farmer. He was a member of the Rexford Community Church.

Memorials are suggested to the donor's choice.

Pioneer Day in Rexford is slated for this Sunday

Pioneer Day will be held Sunday at the Rexford Community Hall. A potluck dinner will be held at noon and everyone is welcome. Bever-ages will be furnished.

Rexford PRIDE will be holding their Farmers/Flea Markets during the months of May through Septem-ber, on the first Saturday of each month. The first market will be held from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. Booth cost for vendors is $10. A lunch stand will be provided by various community organizations. For details, contact Evelyn Johnson at (785) 687-3925.

The pinochle tournament was a success with seven tables. The win-ners were: first, Dick Sanford and Junior Albers; second, Mike and Tamie Miller; and third, Deb Step-per and Darlene Robben. This was the final tournament until fall.

Rexford Bridge Club met with JoAnn Vaughn. Guests were Helen Karls and Fritz Ostemeyer. The next meeting will be with Berneda Zoberst in May. Prizes were won by Joy Davis, Helen Karls, and Mar-guerite Edmundson.

Cleda Moeder was a guest of Donnie and Ruth Hughes and they took her out to lunch.

Deb Stepper spent Easter Sunday with Bert Dible in Colby. They ate dinner with Elaine Preston and Flo-rence Gilcrist.

Guests for dinner on Easter Sun-day at the home of Grace Cheney were Gary and Kay Cheney, Matt Lyn and Amanda Cheney and Duane Cheney, Rexford; and Kathy Hertel, Bird City. Scott, Matt's friend of Colby, came in the after-noon and they all watched Amanda hunt Easter eggs.

Tim, Shelly, Taylor and Peyton were Easter Sunday dinner guests of Cleda Moeder. Tim helped with several miscellaneous jobs around the house and yard.

The Rexford Community Church pastor, Gary Taylor, has taken a position in Oregon and moved last week. Until a new pastor is found, Mike Meserve and Lane Purcell will speak on alternate Sundays so services can continue. Royal Neighbors met Thursday at the Community Hall with Zula Horinek as hostess.

The Red Barn Gang Band had to cancel going to the Prairie Living Center in Colby due to illness of some of the band members. Another appointment will be made.

"Neighbors helping neighbors"

Learning about nutrition

Girl Scout summer camp has openings

Girls completing the fourth, fifth or sixth grades are invited to attend Girl Scouts of Sunflower Council's "Junior Junction" camp at Camp Hansen. Camp dates are Wednes-day, July 16 through Sunday, July 20.

Camp Hansen is located near Kirwin Lake, northeast of Stockton. Camp directors/aides will provide a well-rounded program based on badges and other activities and girls will enjoy tent-camping and bal-anced meals.

A qualified health supervisor will be available at all times. Security measures will be taken to provide safety for all campers and indoor facilities are available in case of bad weather.

This year, campers will experi-ence an "Indian Adventure" com-plete with Native American culture, clothing, housing styles, art forms and more. Other camp activities include swimming, singing, camp-fires, sports such as archery and canoeing and make new friends.

Reservations are now being ac-cepted and registration will be open until May 14.

This camp is limited to the first 16 girls to register.

The fee for "Junior Junction" is $79.00 and includes all meals and snacks, patch, camp supplies, activ-ity supplies, Girl Scout membership until Sept. 30 and trained staff.

Contact Monica or Virginia at Girl Scouts of Sunflower Council, 2707 Vine, Suite 8, in Hays, or call 888-811-8832 for more informa-tion.

Happy 16th
Birthday, Josh!
