The groom-to-be is a 2001 graduate of Triplains High School. He is a student at Kansas State University.

The couple is planning an Aug. 2, 2003 wedding at the United Methodist Church in Sharon Springs.

Reunions, fundraisers set in Brewster

First off, there are some events that we want to announce, or remind folks of and they begin with the Thompson Family Reunion to be held in Brewster during the week-end of Aug. 1 through Aug. 3. This is the family of Chauncey Thompson, and there is hope on the part of Marjorie Starns Westover that many from the area and related to the family will bring their campers and spend a few days visiting. If anyone has any questions, contact Marge Westover at (785) 694-2847. I'm not going to say that we hope it gets rained out, but we do need rain in pretty bad.

I started to write we needed rain in the "worst way" but be don't want that to happen.

Another event going on is the Levant Reunion Aug. 3 at the Quality Inn in Colby. This will be held on Sunday afternoon from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and a good time will be enjoyed by all who make it there to talk over the "good old days!"

Aug. 15 is the date settled on for the Northwest Kansas Heritage Center lunch for their annual gathering of those who help support this local museum/library.

Betty and Corky Wolf, along with the board members all say they need everyone to feel very generous.

This will begin at 6:30 p.m. and payment is by donation. See you at the Hot Dog Feed.

Another gathering will be at the Brewster Senior Center from 2 to 4 p.m. to help Wilma Burk celebrate her 90th birthday and will be sponsored by Wilma's children.

gust make sure you plan to stop at the Senior Center to say "Hi" to Wilma and wish her a Happy Birthday.

This is the weekend that several members of the graduating classes of '52, '53 and '54 are gathering in Colorado Springs to celebrate 50 years of being out of high school. I'll bet none of them have changed a bit!

Due to this reunion and others in the area we have been able to enjoy the company of Cecil and Evelyn Cary of Independence, Ore. and his brother Leon and wife Linda Cary of Fredericksburg, Va. Leon and Roger were classmates and I do believe it took a while for Roger to know who he was talking to.

Triplains has 'day of caring, sharing'

Sunday was a day of sharing and caring in the Triplains communities.

A bridal shower was held Sunday afternoon in Dunlap Hall at the Winona United Methodist Church for Jaclyn Hackerott, bride elect of Darrin Fulton.

Sunday evening many friends gathered at the Bethesda Lutheran Church in Page City for an ice cream social to express their love and concern for Jerry Ayers and his family.

The table was laden with many luscious-looking cakes and pies.

The Lutheran families hosted the benefit and they expressed their appreciation for such a great turnout.

Gene and Doris Langdon from Leoti and their grandchildren were visitors of Gene's mother, Evelyn Langdon, Saturday.

for his mother.

Richard and Laura Ausmus from Colorado Springs were Friday luncheon guests of Beth Lamb. Beth also shared her delight in how her yard was transformed from brown to green after .65 of welcome rain fell at her place Sunday.

Comparing measurements from several rain gauges in Winona, resulted in .40 moisture from the rainfall Sunday.

Larry Haverfield, in south Logan County said they had just a trace of rain.

Maxine Berry reported .70 inches at her home south and west of Page City.

Staci and Andy Hansen, Kirsten and Kourtney from Marion were guests of David and Judy Gfeller. They all attended the Logan County Fair.

David and Judy attended the 4-H livestock auction in which their grandchildren, Amberly and Brett participated.

Amberly's and Brett's parents are Kent and Cindy Gfeller.

On Friday evening David and Judy called on Darlene Stramel in Page City and her guests, Tony and Toby Stramel, Taylor and Terran who live in Logan.

Maxine Berry raised her hand when the question, "Who would like to baby-sit for Eme Wednesday evening?" arose.

The reaction came spontaneously from Maxine's years of teaching experience and she never hesitates to spend time with her granddaughter, Eme Hutton, in Brewster.

Pat Haremza's aunt, Reta Whitham, from Broken Arrow, Okla. spent Thursday evening visiting, looking at pictures and reminiscing about times past at the home of Raymond and Pat Haremza.

With Rita were her daughter, Linda DeFord from Dixon, Texas and daughter Hannah.

The next day they met in Oakley where Pat's mother, Joanne Bussen joined the group and they toured Gove County cemeteries where some of the maternal relatives are buried.

A most interesting bit of information Pat shared was about the discovery of an old rock quarry where her Grandfather Kannedy excavated stone and the dug-out southwest of Gove where Pat's great-grandfather Kannedy provide shelter for his family.

It was a 12' by 12' dwelling which six adults and five children occupied.

The family outing concluded with all having dinner at Pizza Hut.

Happy 80th Birthday, Grandpa Lon!
With Love,
from all of your tribe.
