Early childhood screenings

The Northwest Kansas Educational Service Center staff will be assisting the Colby School District with the early childhood screening, said Emily Strange, school nurse.

The screenings will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 14 and 15, at the United Methodist Church in Colby with appointments being made by calling 460-5111.

The preschool screening is for children 0-5 years who will not attend kindergarten in the fall of 2004.

A separate screening will be held in March of 2004 for children who will be attending school in 2004.

Winona residents attend comedy concert here

Those from this area attending the Ken Davis comedy concert at the Colby Community Building Friday evening were Tracee Mackley, Pam and Mark Lewallen, Erma Latham, Donita Goyen and Kris Harper.

Nicole Plummer and baby son, Ashton Riley Herрман of Hays, were honored with a baby shower Saturday evening at the Winona United Methodist Church. Amber Pfeiff hosted the party and Sheila Plummer was co-host.

This has been a busy week at Triplains. Monday was story hour for pre-schoolers. Tuesday, the high school girls played volleyball at Healy.

The junior high football and volleyball teams traveled to Grinnell Thursday.

Activities throughout the week energized the spirits of the Vikings in preparation for homecoming. A director, Laura Withington, on Tuesday at the chamber of commerce building were Patsy Kahle, Erma Latham, Rosalie Bussen, Juanita Repshire, Norma Lee Plummer, Doneta Gates, Lucille Bruns, Donita Goyen, Louise Smith, Lois Starns and Jean Lowe.

Second grade through sixth grade children were invited to the U.M. Church Wednesday to meet Pastor Mike Eurit, hear stories, play games and enjoy refreshments.

It's a Sonshine Club for Kids and will meet at the church on the second, third and fourth Wednesday of each month.

Kyle Bartell was the guest of honor at a birthday cookout Wednesday evening hosted by Joyce Bartell and Dalene.

Linda Ayers, whose birthday was the following day, was a special guest. Other celebrants were Rhonda and Barbara Fischer from Sharon Springs and Glen Kemp of Winona. To savor the taste of home-made ice cream was the perfect ending for an enjoyable evening.

Reality TV, that's all we hear these days. The wide range of shows labeled reality shows makes me wonder what it really is. Now, my conception of reality is an actual fact, the truth.

Tuesday night on Letterman I sat up and took notice when Biff Henderson announced he'd been in Mayetta.

After all it's not every day CBS hangs out in Kansas. There, indeed, was in all reality, Jim Grau, a "home-grown Winona kid" who graduated from Winona High in 1964 (before it was Triplains). Jim has a propane business in Mayetta and was filling Biff in on the difference in propane and helium gas.

Now he's a television celebrity.

Another week without rain, but as the drilling of wheat continues many fields are turning green. The faith of the farmer is "sow and it will come." WFG wheat price today is $3.21

Family holds celebration

Guests of Duane and Ethel Jean Woofter recently were their four children Glenda Bade of Lincoln, Neb., Dennis Woofter from Washington, D.C., John Woofter of Silverthorne, Colo., and Wayne Woofter of Hays. They were here to help Duane celebrate his 80th birthday and also their parents' 62nd wedding anniversary.

Guests of Pete Morrison the first part of the week were his son and wife, John and Judy Morrison of Algonquin, Ill.

Dinner guests of Eileen Dible last Monday were Rick and Deresa Hampton from Independence, Mo. Eileen is their aunt.

Karen Hodson, the administrator, was on the sick list all last week but was back on Monday this week.

I want to make this correction — Ardis Boersma's daughter, Sue Parks from St. Paul, Minn. did not purchase a house in Colby but is living in Colby at this time. Sorry for the mistake.

The E and E Circle from the United Methodist Church met here Wednesday afternoon with several ladies in attendance.

We sang Happy Birthday to Tillie Depperschmidt Wednesday at the noon meal. She invited all the residents to her apartment at 2 p.m. for cake and ice cream. Her daughter, Marilyn Heble and Betty Woerpel were also guests. Marilyn was dressed in a Swedish dress complete with an embroidered apron that made a very charming outfit.

We wish Tillie many more happy birthdays.

mother, Margueritte Chandler out to their home for dinner on Sunday, Sept. 28.

Shirley Cranston was a dinner guest of her mother, Florence Schertz on Sunday. Shirley likes to bake and often brings cake or muffins to share with the residents.

Several members of the Abilene Hustlers 4-H Club and their sponsors visited us Sunday afternoon, Sept. 28 and brought gifts for everyone. They served delicious brownie and ice cream sundaes to start the party.

We played several games of bingo with the boys calling the numbers. Everyone received at least one prize and some won several times.

The prizes varied from cups of fruit or pudding, stamps or African violet plants. Dorothy Crumbaker showed them a shadow box she had made many years ago when she was in 4-H. We thank the Abilene Hustlers for a very pleasant afternoon.
