

Book discussion series here will explore Chautauqua theme

Pioneer Memorial Library will offer a three-part book discussion series in February and March exploring the theme “Bleeding Kansas.”

This series examines the time period leading up to the Civil War as part of Kansas Chautauqua: Where the Civil War Began, coming to Colby June 11-15.

Members of the community are invited to attend the free programs, which will take place at the library, 375 W. 4th.

The series is sponsored by the Kansas Humanities Council, a non-profit cultural organization, as part of its Talk About Literature in Kansas (TALK) program.

The Council's Resource Center is furnishing the books and providing discussion leaders for the Colby TALK series.

The first discussion meeting will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 11, at 7 p.m. Cheryl Hofstetter Duffy of Fort Hays State University will lead a discussion of the pre-Civil War

South novel, Uncle Tom's Cabin by Harriett Beecher Stowe. Those interested in attending the discussion may check out copies of the book in advance at the library.

1854-1861 was a turbulent pre-Civil War period in American history.

Kansas Chautauqua, beginning with this “Bleeding Kansas” book discussion series, explores the seven-year struggle over whether the Kansas Territory would enter the Union as a free or slave state.

After the Kansas-Nebraska Act opened the territory for white settlement in 1854, the lines were drawn.

The rhetoric was hot, the battles bloody, and the politics were no-holds-barred.

Following the initial book discussion of Uncle Tom's Cabin, the series will feature John Brown: The Legend Revisited by Merrill D. Peterson (February 25) and The All-True Travels and Adventures of Lidle Newton by Jane Smiley (March 10).

In June, history comes alive when readers have the opportunity to meet figures from this time period when Bleeding Kansas: Where the Civil War Began comes to town.

Six historical figures - John Brown, Abraham Lincoln, Stephen Douglas, Clarina Nichols, Fredrick Douglass, and David Atchison — come to life on the Kansas Chautauqua stage and will tell stories from their lives and answer questions from the audience.

Chautauqua participants experience old-fashioned tent programs, historic tours, and family-friendly activities.

The Kansas Humanities Council sponsors this statewide month-long festival of Kansas history and heritage in Junction City (June 4-8), Colby (June 11-15), Fort Scott (June 18-22), and Lawrence (June 25-29).

For details about the reading series or Kansas Chautauqua, call JoAnne Sunderman at Pioneer Memorial Library, 462-4470.
