

Library wishes all happy holidays

From all the library staff, have a very Merry Christmas! If you plan on making the library a stop during your holiday celebrations, please take a look at the hours we will be open during the holiday season.

Here are a few recommendations to carry you into 2005.

BAM!

Kick it up a notch. Emeril's recipes are not just for the proven cook anymore. In Emeril's latest cookbook, There's a Chef in My Soup, all of the recipes are formulated with the apprentice chef in mind. (However, it might not be a bad idea to have a more experienced chef available for any situations that could arise)

Try making an Eat-a-Pita Pizza, a Grill-It-Up-a-Notch Ham and Cheese Sandwich or some Oh-Yeah-Baby Glazed Carrots. This might be a good opportunity to get your child to eat something that he or she has resisted for so long. Food is always more appreciated when you make it yourself.

Karate Hour is a children's book written by Carol Nevius. Carol leads the reader through the experience of a Karate class.

student standing in stark contrast to the sepia colored images of the karate students.

The book starts out with "Karate hour is starting now. Dressed and belted, we all bow." An author's note at the end of the book gives a brief history of karate, the training hall rules, and the different levels (or belts) of karate that can be achieved.

John Paul II has published his latest book Rise, Let Us Be On Our Way this year. This book starts out with an account of Karol Wojtyla and his rise through the ranks of Catholicism.

On Oct. 16, 1978 Karol was elected Pope and assumed the name Pope John Paul II. After reading this autobiography, Catholics and non-Catholics alike will be able to better understand and appreciate the theology, perspectives and history of Pope John Paul II.

Larry King gives us a humorous and in some cases, not so humorous look at what the rich and famous might someday have on their own graves and in their obituaries.

Remember Me When I'm Gone includes epitaphs from scores of celebrities including George Carlin, Yogi Berra, Stephen King and Hugh Hefner.

Yogi Berra, in typical Yogi fashion, simply states "It's Over." Dr. Laura Schlessinger writes, "How arrogant to write your own epitaph."

Holiday Hours: The library will be closed Friday through Sunday for the Christmas holiday. On Monday, Dec. 27 through Thursday, Dec. 30, the library will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The library will be closed Friday and Saturday for the New Year and then will open from 1 to 4 p.m., Sunday. Normal hours will resume beginning Jan. 3, 2005. Happy Holidays!
