

Golfing pays off for school

A hole lot of golf was played Monday at Colby Country Club. A few thousand actually, and it was all for a good cause.

“100 Holes for Heartland” was the theme for the event that took place at the Colby Country Club course. Jenny Niblock, one of the organizers, said it was a fundraiser for Heartland Christian School.

“What we’re doing is golfing 100 holes in one day,” she said. “Each person had to golf 100 holes. It’s quite an undertaking.”

Sixty golfers hit the links at 7 a.m. that morning for an endeavor never tackled before in Colby. Niblock said they hoped to be finished by 7 p.m.

“The score is no object,” she said.

Families asked sponsors for money per hole ahead of time.

Three hundred and three donors from 19 states and one foreign country gave $18,937 as of Monday afternoon. Almost 30 families from the school participated and many were out on the course with their clubs.

Niblock’s son, five-year-old Lander, was one of the youngest golfers and there were even a few grandparents out on the course. Anyone who wasn’t playing was helping with the concession stand or other duties.

She said it was mainly parents and students but a few friends were also out on the course.

Efforts to organize the event began in March. Niblock said they had heard about similar events elsewhere and took the concept and ran. “We learned along the way,” she said. “We wanted more than just a golf tournament.”

They met with families in April and sent out donor cards shortly after.

Despite the wind, the golfers soldiered on.

Lander was one of the golfers who was nearly finished by mid-afternoon. With 25 holes left to play, he said he was having fun.

He wasn’t the only one.

Heartland board president Craig Myers and his daughters Amy and Rachel were making their rounds around the course.

Myers said the golf was fun but playing with his daughters made it more enjoyable.

“It’s been neat to have everyone doing it all together,” he said.

K-18 action ‘Colby 2’ takes two from St. Francis

The Colby 2 K-18 team took two games from St. Francis here on Monday, 11-3 and 16-2.

Game 1

Colby jumped out to an early lead scoring 4 runs in the first inning, followed by 3 more in the second. Preston Krzycki started on the mound and pitched 3 scoreless innings before St. Francis broke their drought with 2 runs in the top of the 4th. Brandon Rasmussen came on in relief and pitched the final 3 innings allowing just one run. Colby tacked on single runs in the bottom of the fourth and fifth, and added two more in the 6th inning to complete the scoring.

Krzycki had two doubles and scored 3 runs. Kirt Dugger was on base all four times he batted, also scoring 3 runs. Rasmussen had a single and a walk, scoring twice. Brandon Gordon knocked in several runs and scored once himself. Rounding out the scoring were Trenton Jones and Chaz Winger getting one run apiece. Also playing for Colby but not scoring were Garrett Rogers, Ethan Stickel, Jacob Hutflesand Jordan Voss.

Game 2

Kirt Dugger pitched all three innings of the time-shortened game for Colby. Good hitting for Colby and some shaky pitching for St. Francis were the keys in this game. Colby managed to get 9 base on balls, as well as 9 hits against several St. Francis pitchers. Scoring three times for Colby were Stickel and Rasmussen. Crossing the plate twice were Dagan Wright, Voss, Winger and Dugger. Scoring once were Rogers and Jones.

Next action will be Thursday at home vs. Oakley. Game time is 6:30 p.m. with a seven-inning game to be followed by a five-inning game.
