

Pioneer Library to host trivia night in October

Pioneer Memorial Library will be hosting a trivia night from 7 to 8:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 13 for a trivia night.

Organize a team of five to eight members now and sign-up at the library.

The library will provide beverages for the evening. Mark it on your calendar and plan for a night of fun and trivia.

Here is a trivia question — What will gas prices be about this time next year?

An unpredictable question, but fortunately gas prices have inched down over the past week. Economists seem to indicate that as gas prices go down traveling starts to increase.

So, here are a few of our newest audio books that you can take with you on the road.

Dutch and Lilly have just called it quits after an argument.

Both are leaving the vacation cabin they recently purchased in an attempt to reconcile their failing marriage.

As Dutch is leaving, he warns Lilly of an impending blizzard moving into the area.

Lilly, in a frantic attempt to beat the blizzard back to the city, loses control of her car and hits a man.

The injured man turns out to be Ben Tierney, a handsome freelance writer with whom she had briefly flirted with the summer before.

With an injured man in her care, Lilly's only option is to turn around and wait out the storm in her cabin.

Tension begins to build when Dutch, police chief of Cleary, N.C., learns about Lilly's predicament.

A serial killer named "Blue" has been abducting women in the Cleary, N.C. area and all of the clues seem to point to Ben Tierney.

Read Chill Factor by Sandra Brown.

Christopher Paolini wrote the hugely popular fantasy book Eragon when he was only 15 years old. Now at the ripe old age of 19, Paolini has completed his second fantasy book in the series, titled Eldest.

Eragon is on a quest to return the land of Alagaesia to safety.

After being oppressed for many years by the wicked Empire Galbatorix, the hint of a battle of the ages is beginning to take shape.

Crucial to the outcome of the battle is the success of Eragon and his dragon Saphira.

A timely secret about his parents and a vow to save his village provides a glimmer of hope that Eragon will be able to save the people of Alagaesia.

Private Eye V.I. Warshawski is back at it again fighting crime in novel number 13 by Sara Paretsky. Fire Sale brings V.I. (aka Vic) back to her roots in South Side Chicago.

Vic is filling in for her high school basketball coach who is struggling with cancer.

Faced with run-down practicing facilities and low player morale, Vic looks for a team sponsor to help out with expenses during the basketball season.

Her first pitch goes to fellow alum and billionaire Buffalo Bill Bysen, owner of mega-discount store By-Smart.

Bill doesn't seem interested in anything Vic has to say until his grandson runs off with the daughter of a single Latino mother. Bysen, a bigot, hires Vic to track down his grandson.

The plot begins to thicken when a flag making plant blows up right before Vic's eyes killing the owner. Coincidentally, the single Latino mother just happened to be employed by the flag making plant before it blew up. Is there a connection?

Or, more importantly will Vic be able to gather enough information from the upper and lower echelons of society to make a connection? Listen to it and find out.

It's auction time!

Carolyn May, United Methodist Church missions committee chair, organized items for the church's auction Sunday. The event will start at noon with a free-will donation meal followed by the auction to include items from a pie a month to children's items to trips. Proceeds will go to missions and ministries, May said. Everyone is welcome to attend.
