Middle school Eagles lose to Quinter

The Colby Middle School eighth grade Eagles ran into a Bulldog buzzsaw Monday night. Quinter boys got revenge for the Colby team beating them in the Northwest Kansas League tournament title game last year. Quinter came out and had full court pressure from the opening tip and ran out to a 23-10 lead after the first quarter.

They extended their lead to 36-18 at the half.

Colby tried to regroup during the break but didn't fare any better during the 3rd quarter getting outscored 14-7 in the quarter.

The Eagles finally got some offense going in the final 6 minutes, but it was too little too late. They outscored Quinter in the last quarter 12-7 to make the final score 57-37.

Scoring for Colby were: Brandon Gordon, 15, Chaz Winger, 7, Garrett Rogers, 6, Ryley Haas and Brandon Rasmussen both hit a three, Preston Krzycki, 2, and Kalen Rasmussen, 1. Also playing in the game was Kirt Dugger.

The B team game was not much different, due to the fact that Quinter played several of their A team players again. There were only two quarters played, and the score ended up 22-6 in favor of the Bulldogs. Scoring for Colby were Brandon Standage, 4, and Brock Wagoner, 2.

Next up for the Eagles is a trip to St. Francis on Tuesday followed by a home game with Scott City on Thursday, Dec. 1.

Jayhawks could make bowl game this fall

LAWRENCE — Three weeks ago, Kansas was 3-4 on the season and 0-4 in Big 12 play. With four games left, including a battle at No. 2 Texas, it seemed unlikely the Jayhawks would finish with a winning record and qualify for a bowl game.

But three weeks later, after wins against Missouri and Nebraska, Kansas is going into its final game of the season with a 5-5 record and a chance at both a winning record and qualifying for a bowl game.

"Winning this game would kind of validate that this season was a successful one for us," coach Mark Mangino said. "I would like to have our seniors get the opportunity to play another game. I think they have earned it."

After winning their first three non-conference games, the Jayhawks struggled to find consistency from the quarterback position. In their 0-4 conference start, they used three different quarterbacks before Jason Swanson finally started in the Oct. 29 game against Missouri.

Not only did Swanson lead Kansas to a win over the Tigers, he helped them defeat Nebraska for the first time in 36 years the following week. Last week, the Jayhawks suffered a 66-14 loss to No. 2 Texas.

"Every season is going to have its ups and downs," senior linebacker Brandon Perkins said. "We went through some tough times, but here we are and we still have a chance to play for something big. We just have to go out and seize the moment."

The game against Iowa State originally was scheduled for last Saturday, but in September it was pushed back to Nov. 26 so it could be televised nationally on Fox Sports Midwest. What resulted was an extra bye week for both teams.

"The timing was right for us," Mangino said. "We were banged up, and the bye week has given us a chance to get two players back that probably wouldn't have been able to play if the game was last week."

And after a poor showing against Texas on national TV, the defense is ready to prove it's still among the top defenses in the nation. Until the game two weeks ago against the Longhorns, the Kansas defense was No. 5 overall and No. 1 against the run. "We feel that we are one of the better teams, but our record doesn't show it," said senior linebacker Kevin Kane. "For us to have a winning season this year would be great, but we have to go out and win this game though before we can say any of that."

Trojan wrestlers do well at Greeley tourney

By Adrian Bos

Colby Community College

Colby Community College assistant wrestling coach Todd Voss said the expectations both he and head coach Steve Lampe have for the 2005-06 season are crystal clear: take as many wrestlers to nationals as possible.

Coach Voss explained that in order to do this the Trojan wrestling team is going to have to peak at the right time.

The two coaches are making sure their wrestlers are ready for Regionals later this season.

Coach Voss explained just how impressed he was with the incoming freshman class.

The team has many outstanding wrestlers, including one of Colby's All-Americans, 133-pound class wrestler Daniel Prater. He is one of several All-Americans on the team.

Prater has many goals this season, he talked about how important it was for him to achieve All-American status again this season. Prater went on to point out the most obvious difference between this team and last year's team was the convenience of having the heavyweight class filled.

The team has already been busy this new wrestling season.

The trip to Greeley, Colo. this past weekend provided a competitive task for the Trojans. Levi Younkin went 4-1 and wrapped up a third place finish in the 133lb class at the Northern Colorado Open.

Also having a good weekend was All-American Jason Schippers at the 174-pound weight class as he finished 3-2.

With every match the Trojans have under their belt they will be one step closer to where they expect to be when Regionals come around. Coach Lampe's team will wrestle in Rock Springs, Wyo. this week and they will be at home next weekend.
