Clubs have combined first meeting

By Kathy Calliham

Pi Gamma, Shakespeare and Sorosis Clubs met Sept. 22 for their first combined meeting at Pioneer Memorial Library.

Janice Kreider was a guest. An outstanding program was given by Gerry Anschutz and Joyce Hansen on their experiences as part of a Volunteer in Mission Holy Land tour.

They worked as volunteers near Ibillin, near Nazareth, with Archbishop Elias Chacour at a school which he founded. Even though Father Chacour's family was taken away from their home by Israeli soldiers, lost everything they had, and lived in a cave, his father taught his family love. He told them never to hate anyone. This is his mission — to reach children. Children are not born to hate. This is taught by adults. We must pray that Christians, Jews and Muslims, starting with children, can learn to live dren in the village and asked the peace with each other.

We appreciate Joyce and Gerry helping us to be more aware of the situation in Israel and Palestine. They offered beautiful olive wood Calliham. Gerry, Joyce, Janice and carvings for sale. One hundred percent of the proceeds from these items go directly to Christian organizations in Palestine.

Janice McCart, Shakespeare member, has been working for a few be Oct. 13 with Leilani Thomas givyears on a project to build a not-for-profit medical center in rural populations of Ghana, Africa. They need to buy the land for the medical center. Janice will meet in November with the African chief in Ghana to be approved to buy this land. Rotary will furnish the well for this project.

Janice is taking gifts for the chilthree clubs to donate books and chewing gum for the children.

Hostesses for this meeting were JoAnn Sunderman and Kathy Colby Rotary show how Colby people care not only for our community, but also the people of the world as well.

The next combined meeting will ing the program on Colby tourism.
