Rexford has shelter

By Vicki Allison
Rexford correspondent

Until next time, make your week memorable.

After a threat of a tornado a couple of weeks ago and the high winds and snow last week the city of Rexford wants to make it known and to remind the community of the Emergency Shelter established at the Rexford Community Church. Last February a switch was installed at the church so a generator could be hooked up during a power outage. A generator has been provided and is ready to be used for this purpose.

The city of Rexford has been working on establishing and printing a city ordinance and the use of 4-wheelers. The next monthly meeting will be 7 p.m., Wednesday, May 14.

The sidewalk along Kansas and Maple has been replaced and is a welcomed improvement to the neighborhood.

Golden Plains Community Outreach will meet at the home of Evelyn Johnson, 7 p.m., Wednesday. Individuals interested in working and improving the community is invited to attend and discuss ideas.

At 7 p.m., Thursday, a high school and middle school talent show will be held. There will be vocal and instrumental talent shared as well as a few comedy acts.

Prior to the show, an ice cream social will begin at 5:30 p.m. followed by the sophomore class auction.

There have been several individuals leaving our small community. Steve and Teri Allen will be moving to Kentucky and Jennifer Scott and Paula McDaniel have moved to Washington.

Birthday celebrations during May include, Jordan Christensen - May 2, Scott Johnston - May 5, Lile Lunsway - May 6, Jay Todd - May 7, Berneda Zoberst - May 18, Jay Dahl - May 22, Sharon Ketchum - May 22, Cleda Moeder - May 23, Eunice Sanford - May 23, Gary Hibbs - May 26, and Loretta Trevino - May 27.

Red Barn on-going activities: 2 p.m., Monday, Barnswallows ; 10 a.m., Wednesday, Ladies Bible Study and 8 p.m., men's Bible study, led by Pastor Lane Purcell; Come on Down, 2 p.m., Thursdays; and Friday's Koffee Klatch at 9:30am.

Bingo has ended for the summer and will continue in the fall as well as the Pinochle Tournaments.

Don't lose track of magazine items

BY HELOISE
Clipping Collection
Dear Readers: If you COLLECT MAGAZINES for great recipes or articles, I have a terrific hint to help you find the item you're looking for in a snap. How often do you see a recipe or an article in a magazine that you want to save and refer back to, only to find you've forgotten where you saw it and on what page? Here's a solution that might work for you. Whenever you get a new magazine, stick a plain, white address label on the left-hand front or back cover, and place it in the same place every time. Then, as you see something of interest in the magazine, jot down the page number and a short description on the label. Store all of your "keeper" magazines together so that when you want to find that special recipe or interesting article, you need only glance at your label notes to find it, instead of having to flip through the magazines page by page. -- Heloise

P.S.: A quick solution is to tear out the articles (after everyone in the family has read the magazine) and keep them in a file. I usually attach the cover of the magazine, also.

FAST FACTS
Dear Heloise: The plastic-foam egg cartons seem too good to just toss. Here are some things we use them for around our house. (Of course, we wash them well when empty.):
* They are handy for small jewelry. My daughter uses one to sort her earrings by pair.

* Use in the craft room as a bead keeper -- it separates colors so that making jewelry is easier.
* My husband uses one in his shed for nuts, bolts, screws, etc.
* Keep in a sewing room for buttons.
* A carton is a perfect carrier for a dozen deviled eggs. Cover the bottom of the tray with plastic wrap and then set the eggs on that.
-- Virginia Harper from Colorado
SELF-STICKING FLOOR TILES
Dear Heloise: Being a senior in age, I dreaded the job of changing shelf paper. I was in a home-improvement store and had an epiphany! Self-stick floor tiles were on sale, and I bought a box. They were easy to cut to size with scissors. I won't have to change them and can wipe up spills easily. I now have done my pantry shelves also. -- Shirley in Arizona

WASHING BY HAND
Dear Heloise: Here is a hint I learned from my sister-in-law, Marti. When you hand-wash china and crystal, have the dishwasher empty, and use the racks to let the dishes and silver air-dry. It's quick and easy, and it saves counter space. I dry the silver by hand to prevent water spots. I read your daily hints in The Rapid City Journal. -- Maureen, Rapid City, S.D.
