Foster Grandparents honored

The Foster Grandparent Program celebrated 11 years of helping children this week with a banquet Thursday at Fort Hays State University honoring 55 volunteers who have dedicated time, attention and love helping children. These volunteers have given over 43,000 hours of service in towns throughout western Kansas, including those in Thomas, Barton, Ellis, Ford, Gove, Norton, Pawnee, Rooks, Russell and Trego counties, spending time helping more than 265 children.

Corrections

An article, "Two courses eye water tap," on Page 1 of the Thursday, Oct. 22, Colby Free Press, incorrectly said that the Meadow Lakes Golf Course is irrigated with water treated at the city's old sewer plant nearby. The course is watered from a well. This was an editing error.

Developer Ed Collins, who wants to build a new golf course east of town, said he believes he had an agreement to buy water from the city. He said the council had signed a memorandum of understanding with him on Oct. 2. The memorandum says it is conditional, "subject to review and approval of the golf course site plan, architectural and engineering designs, drawings and specifications by the Colby City Council."

Another article, "Colby wins two of four games at league meet," on Page 8 of the same paper, incorrectly states that the Colby High volleyball team took second place at the Northwest Kansas League meet. Hoxie finished second. Colby lost the game for third place. This also was an editing error.

An engagement item on Page 4 of the Oct. 16 Free Press for Scott Harry and Tonya Hatfield omitted the name of the prospective groom's late father, Calvin Harry, who died in 2003. This was due to incomplete information supplied to the newspaper.

Sidney Clyde Dillinger

Sidney Clyde Dillinger was born in a sod house on a farm in Sherman County, Kansas, July 3, 1912, to Troy Clyde and Amanda (Thompson) Dillinger. He died October 18, 2008, at the Long Term Care Unit of Jewell County Hospital at the age of 96 years, 3 months, and 15 days. Sidney was the middle child in a family of nine children, and the was the first boy. When his mother discovered she was expecting, she prayed that if the Lord would giver here a son, she would dedicate him to the Lord's service. She never told him about this until he had made his decision o enter the ministry. He was raised in a very devout Christian home where two mottoes dominated the philosophy of home: "Do only that which you feel is the will of God for you", and "Here am I, Lord, send me."

Sidney attended elementary school in a one-room school house, graduated from Brewster High School in 1931, and Kansas Wesleyan University in 1935. He received his BD degree from Garrett Biblical Institute in 1938. His first appointment was in 1933 to the Traer Methodist Episcopal Church, in the former Northwest Kansas Conference.

He was married to Eva Tedrow June 20, 1934, and they had three children. he is survived by his children: Coralyn Kaufman, a registered nurse, of Mankato, Kansas; Rasalie, a former high school teacher, and husbandn Jon Menhusen of Mankato, Kansas; and Rollin, who became a United Methodist minister, of Wichita, Kansas; six grandchildren, twenty-eight step-grandchildren, two brothers, Troy dillinger of Colby, Kansas, and Dwight Dillinger of Hays, Kansas, and two sisters, Clarice Blakely of Colby, Kansas, and Olga Schwartzkopf of Wakeeny, Kansas.

sidney held several conference and district offices, and was he second preacher in the Kansas West Conference to receive the Rural Preacher of the Year Award. He used his horses in youth ministry, and for many years he helped in the church youth camps. Sidney nd Eva served in the Kansas West Conference until Eva's death April 16, 1976, serving churches in Traer, Placo, Wells, Almena, Kensington, Seldon, Dresden, Rexford, Jennings, bird City, Sharon Springs, Cunningham, Gypsum, Gem, McCracken, Bazine, Ionia, Esbon, and Odessa.. In 1966, Sidney was chosen as one of twelve ministers to dramatize how preachers dressed and traveled to conferences two hundred years ago. With Eva's help he rode horseback from McCracken, Kansas, to Baltimore, Maryland, preaching along the way.

In the fall of 1976, Sidney transferred his conference membership to the Missouri West Conference. He married Hilda Bird, December 1976, and served as a pastor in churches in Osceola, Lowry City, Sheldon and Bronough, Missouri, until his retirement June 1, 1982 During his retirement, they made their home in Bolviar, Missouri, and he served the Flemington-Weaubleau churches for ten years. As part of the celebration of 200 years as a denomination, Sidney and Hilda joined three other people to ride horseback half way across the continent to tell the story of the Methodist Church and preach an evangelistic sermon. They talked and preached to over 9,000 people and had more than 100 respond to the invitation to come to he church altar for prayer.

In Missouri, he was a state officer of the Optimist Club. In 2007, he received a pin honoring his sixty years as a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Hilda died in 1997. In 1998, Sidney moved to Mankato Kansas, and married Vesta McCammon, June 19, 1999. They enjoyed several winters in Phoenix and traveled to many interesting spots. Through they had only nine an a half years together; they had a deep and abiding love for each other an for God that sustained them through the difficulties of declining health.

A memorial funeral service was held Tuesday, October 21, 2008, at 11:00 a.m., at the Harmony United Methodist Church, Mankato, Kansas, with Pastor Dan Dempsey and Pastor Rollin Dillinger, officiating. Innumment of the cremains was held at 7:30 p.m., at Wichita County Cemetery, Leoti, Kansas.
