A story on Page 8 of the Monday, pole vault," incorrectly stated that freshman Paige Roopehan finished second in the long jump with a time of 6:27.6 and second in the triple jump with a time of 31' 8.25. Roopehan finished second in the long jump with a leap of 15 feet, 4 inches and second in the triple jump with a leap of 31 feet, 8.25 inches. These were reporting errors.

A story on Page 1 of the Monday, May18, Colby Free Press, "Students fake injuries for tornado drill," an error changed the meaning of a sentence. The sentence in the third paragraph that begins "students were part of some elaborate 'April Fools' prank" should have read the students were not part of a prank. The words "to make" were omitted from Dawnelle Umberger's explanation of a moulage class. These were editing errors.

The drill was put on by Thomas County Emergency Medical Services, not the Thomas County Emergency Management Department, and Umberger is training coordinator for Emergency Medical Services. The story failed to say that the drill took place at the new Colby Implement location, on Horton Avenue south of Interstate 70. These were reporting errors.
