flown to Via Christi Hospital in Wichita with serious injuries.

The patrol report said none of the people involved in the crash was wearing a seat belt.

The sheriff's office also helped the patrol with at least nine slide-offs on the Interstate.

Things calmed down the rest of the week and over the weekend. On Christmas Eve, Colby Police reported a hit and run on South Grant Avenue while the sheriff reported one accident on I-70, at mile marker 65. On Christmas Day, only one accident was reported, at 10:24 a.m. on West Fourth Street.

On Saturday, two accidents were reported, at Dillon's and the intersection of Webster Street and Range Avenue. Two more were reported to the sheriff, one at Colby House and one at the Colonial Steakhouse one vehicle and the rescue crew had to pry hospital where he was pronounced dead at at U.S. 83 and I-70 north of Oakley.

In addition to the accident that killed two Arkansas residents Tuesday, two fatal accidents were reported in Goodland, one each on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The first was reported at 8:54 p.m. Tuesday, when a 2000 GMC pickup driven by John Mahon, 30, Colorado Springs. was eastbound about a mile east of Goodland. The patrol said he apparently lost control on ice and hit the south ditch. Troopers said it looked like the truck rolled two times, ejecting the driver. The victim was taken to Goodland Regional Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead at 9:36 p.m.

Sherman County Sheriff Kevin Butts told The Goodland Star-News the driver was not wearing a seat belt.

With blizzard conditions Wednesday, sheriff's deputies and troopers were called to a multi-car accident about two miles east of Goodland. Two people were trapped in and cut them out.

Sheriff Butts said Deputy Jason Showalter worked the accident at 10:23 a.m. at mile post 21. He said a 2007 Mercury driven by Ann Adams, 70, Ash Grove, Mo., was driving west when she lost control after coming over a bridge and crossed the median and the two east lanes. The car hit a Dodge minivan head-on and spun off, ending up in the ditch on the south side.

Adams and a passenger in the Mercury, Collette Smith, 15, Maitland, Fla., had to be extricated by Sherman County Rural Fire and Rescue volunteers.

The 2001 Dodge minivan was driven by Jamie Zipter, 25, of Aurora. She was taken to the Goodland hospital for checkup because she was pregnant. A passenger, Chris Fossett, 30, Aurora, was taken to the hospital with a broken leg.

His two sons, Aiden, 2, and Ethan, 3, were in the minivan. Ethan was taken to the 2:51 p.m.

The blizzard forced Colorado officials to close I-70 from Limon to Burlington on Christmas Day. The westbound lanes of I-70 were closed at Goodland when Colorado asked because the motels in Burlington had filled up.

Saturday morning, I-70 was closed at Colby because the motels in Goodland were reportedly filling up. For a couple of hours Saturday, troopers closed K-27 north and south of Goodland to traffic trying to go west on U.S. 40 or U.S. 36. Conditions on both highways reportedly had reduced visibility and blowing snow.

Saturday afternoon about 1 p.m., I-70 was reopened in Colorado and the westbound lanes were opened at Goodland. Within a few minutes, the Interstate was reopened at Colby. Once I-70 had been opened, troopers reopened K-27.

County tackles end-of-year details

sioners with a request to replace a copier in her office that she said is so old, parts are no longer available. She had cost quotes from Ikon and Office Works, but the bids weren't complete. The commissioners asked her to get both quotes, plus information on a maintenance fee, and they would consider them at the meeting on many employees. He got the go Thursday. She estimated that the ahead, as it was allowed by state copier will run in the $7,000 to $8,000 dollar range.

"I have $2,500 in my equipment budget," she said, "and can take the rest of it from the motor vehicle fund, where we make the majority of the copies."

She said she also needs to replace a numbering machine that has reached antiquity. It is at least 30 years old, she said, and a replacement will run in the $600 range. The commissioners approved the purchase.

County Health Department workers Kasiah Rothchild, financial administrator; Andrea Jen- and 29 for next month. All will bekins, medical records; Kendra gin at 9 a.m.

Glassman, billing clerk; and Amy Knipp, a registered nurse, were at the commissioners meeting to ask for a closed-door session. The commissioners had a question as to how many people could be in an executive session, and summoned County Attorney Bruce Flipse. He called the state attorney general's office to see if it was appropriate to go into closed session with that law. They announced they would go into executive session for 30 minutes to discuss "nonelected personnel."

They reconvened after 30 minutes and took no action.

In other business, the commissioners: • Discussed the need to decide how to distribute of liquor tax money • Set a meeting for 9 a.m. Thursday to do end-of-year business and resolutions. The health department may be on the agenda, as well. • Set meetings for Jan. 4, 11, 18 when other agencies faced reductions. Even then, their actual spending of state tax dollars was $26.3 million, some $2.2 million less than budgeted and slightly less than spending for fiscal 2008. They reduced printing, cut back on post-session study committees and lopped two days off the 90 scheduled for the session.

Senate President Steve Morris, a Hugoton Re- feet," Morris said.

publican, defended the proposals submitted to Parkinson's staff. Some increased spending in fiscal 2010 and 2011 would prepare the Legislature for constitutionally mandated redistricting in 2012, and nearly $3.6 million would finish a five-year modernization of computers for writing bills and compiling journals and calendars.
