Dr. Amanda Zimmerman and Dr. Eric Griggs recently opened up Northwest Kansas Chiropractic, a clinic focusing on restoring the body to health with natural solutions.

“I’ve always liked the northwest-Kansas area and we thought it would be a great place to open our business and provide quality care,” said Zimmerman.

Zimmerman and Griggs both stress the importance of a healthy lifestyle. They said their goal is to educate and encourage as many people to be at their best health while offering reasonable payment plans.

“What we do is talk to each of our patients, evaluate their needs, and treat them. Sometimes the patients that see us don’t need chiropractic care, so if that happens we refer them to someone who will give them the care they need,” said Zimmerman.

Zimmerman is from Grinnell. She earned her Bachelor of Science degree in kinesiology from Kansas State University and continued her education in Davenport, Iowa, at Palmer College of Chiropractic. There she was a student intern in the academic health center, clinic teaching assistant and a teaching assistant for research as well as a class representative for the Palmer Student Alumni Foundation.

Griggs is from Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He earned his Bachelor of Liberal Studies degree from The University of Iowa and went to Palmer College. There he was a student intern in the academic health center, student health clinic, outreach health clinic, pediatrics club, and sports council.

As interns, Zimmerman and Griggs met on a mission trip to the country of Brazil. They are now planning a fall 2010 wedding.

Zimmerman and Griggs are planning a grand opening from 2 to 6 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 27.

“We will have snacks, door prizes, and an open house tour so the community can get to know us and a little more about what we do, or if you can’t make it you can always visit our website at www.nwkchiro.com,” Zimmerman said.

The Northwest Chiropractic Clinic is open 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and is located at 770 S. Range.
