Keep America beautiful

JUDY ROGERS/Golden Plains High School
Ethan Walter and Hannah Antholz teamed up for the Golden Plains National Honor Society Adopt-A-Highway Ditch Cleaning on Wednesday. This bi-annual clean-up is one of the Honor Society's service projects. This fall, members were joined by other student volunteers to help clean along the highway outside of Rexford.

Humanities grants available

The Kansas Humanities Council announces grant opportunities available to Kansas nonprofits in 2012.

Kansas Humanities Council grants support projects that use the humanities to connect people with ideas, places, and history: museum exhibitions, panel discussions, heritage walking tours, oral history projects, and short films that strengthen community and encourage discussions.

The 2012 grant deadlines are:

Feb. 29, May 30, and Oct. 3. Grant guidelines are available at www.kansashumanities.org.

The Kansas Humanities Council conducts and supports community-based humanities programs, serves as a financial resource through an active grant-making program, and encourages Kansans to participate in their communities. For more information about KHC, visit www.kansashumanities.org or call (785) 357-0359.

Charges face cap-gun shooter

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) – State police say they plan to charge a 20-year-old man with cap gun that scared shoppers and prompted police to respond to a shopping center parking lot.

Troopers from the Greensburg barracks say in a news release Tuesday that the incident occurred at the Greengate Centre Circle parking lot in Hempfield Township late Friday.

Police say the fake gunfire "resulted in public alarm and a significant police response."

Police say they plan to charge the 20-year-old Greensburg man responsible. They say he displayed the cap gun while riding in a vehicle then scared shoppers by firing it.
