Republican Glenn D. Schiffner of Colby is unopposed for Division 1 district judge for the 15th District. In Division 2, Republican Scott Showalter, Goodland, also is unopposed.

For district magistrate judge, position 5, covering Thomas County, Republican Richard J. "Rick" Ress of Colby also is alone on the ballot.

The only question on the ballot in this election is a proposed constitutional amendment, passed and approved by the Legislature, which would allow the state to classify and tax boats and watercraft separately from other personal property.

If the amendment passes, the Legislature would be able to lower the tax rate on watercraft. As it is, Kansas taxes on boats are said to be the highest of any surrounding state, prompting many boat owners to licenses their craft elsewhere.

Voting place in Colby

All Thomas County voters may cast their ballots from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Colby Community Building, 285 E. Fifth St. The building has been the only polling place in the county for several years.

Under a recent Kansas law, voters will need a government-issued photo identification to cast their ballot, such as a driver's license, nondriver ID card, concealed-carry handgun license, U.S. passport, government employee or U.S. military ID, Kansas college ID, public assistance ID or Indian tribe ID.

As of this morning, 724 ballots have been sent in by early voters, said Guill at the Thomas County clerk's office. Votes will be counted by hand for written ballots or on paper tapes, which are printed out from voting machines, after the polls close Tuesday night. Unofficial results should be known by late Tuesday.
