Rare lobster donated

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Maine (AP) – An unusual six-clawed lobster has been donated to the Maine State Aquarium in West Boothbay Harbor.

Named Lola, the unusual lobster was caught by a fishing crew off the coast of Hyannis, Mass.

Aquarium Manager Aimee Hayden-Roderiques says on one side where a singular claw would be Lola has five lobster claws arranged in a starfish pattern. She tells WMTW-TV (bit.ly/1fUuab) that the claw deformity is a genetic mutation.
