Q: I found a 25-piece set of Golden Wheat dishes in my mother's attic. The mark on each dish include the words "Golden Wheat, Made in USA, 22K Gold, Oven Proof," with a sheaf of wheat on each side. The set includes six dinner plates, six salad plates and a few serving pieces, but only a couple cups, saucers and soup bowls. What is the set worth?

A: Golden Wheat dishes were premiums first inserted in boxes of Duz detergent during the 1950s. Each month, a different packaged dish was inserted in a box of detergent. The pattern is a realistic image of five standing sheaves of wheat, and the rim of each dish was edged in gold. There is disagreement about the company that made the dishes, because the very same mark was used by Scio Pottery of Scio, Ohio; Homer Laughlin China Co. of Newell, W.Va.; and French Saxon China Co. of Sebring, Ohio.

It is possible all three pottery companies made dishes for Duz. Because so many dishes were made and so many people saved them, they are not rare and prices are low. Another problem is that defining a "set" is impossible because many of the dishes made it into homes one at a time. We have seen a 22-piece set offered for $35.

Q: We were left a large figural owl by my wife's grandparents. It's about 3 feet tall and weighs 40-50 pounds. It appears to be made of fired clay. The base looks like tile used for roofing or old piping. It's marked "Evens & Howard, St. Louis, Mo." We don't intend to sell it, but we're interested in the background.

A: Evens & Howard Fire Brick Co. was incorporated in 1867, but a brickworks had been operating at the company's location since 1837. Fire bricks were used to line fireplaces, furnaces, fireboxes, ovens, etc. The bricks were made from clay dug from mines in St. Louis and Glencoe, Mo. The clay was weathered for at least six months before it was made into bricks.

The company began making sewer pipe in 1858. It also made fire-clay chimney tops, hot-air flues and floor tiles. Evidently the company also made figures like yours.

Q: I have a set of old metal ice tongs marked tate sale more than 50 years ago. Can you estimate age and value?

not made earlier than 1905, the year Gifford Brothers of Hudson, N.Y., merged with William T. Wood & Co. of Arlington, Mass. The company specialized in tools to carry and handle ice.

Gifford Wood Co. ice tongs often are offered for sale online. Prices range from $20 to $50, depending on size, quality and condition.

Tip: Do not put wax on a wooden toy to preserve it. The wax may yellow and disturb any markings or paper decoration.

A Simple Rule of Thumb

There is certainly nothing unusual about reach-22 O ing an uncertain contract — it happens all the time - but when you do, you should still do everything possible to try to make it. Consider 24 O South's plight in the present case where he got to 27 L six hearts and West led the king of spades.

With ordinary play, South would have gone down one, losing a trump trick and a diamond. But he managed his assets well and wound up making the slam.

He won the spade lead with the ace, cashed the A-K of trumps and then embarked on a campaign to try to avoid the risky diamond finesse. He began by leading the ten of clubs to the jack, ruffed a spade, then led the ten of diamonds to the ace and ruffed dummy's last spade.

Having run East out of spades to set the stage for a potential endplay, declarer next played the A-K-Q of clubs, discarding a diamond from dummy on the last club. East refused to trump the fourth club and then be forced to lead a diamond into dummy's K-J, so he discarded a diamond instead.

This merely delayed the inevitable, because declarer next led his last trump, forcing East to win and return a diamond from the Q-7 to yield the slam.

In finding the winning line of play, declarer merely followed the general principle that one shouldn't stake the outcome on a finesse without first seeking a reasonable alternative. Once South applied the principle, the rest was as easy as pie.
