

A soldier's first promotion

1st Lt. Lonnie Brungardt, commander of Detachment 1, 170th Maintenance Company, promotes Kelly Simmons of McDonald to Private E-2 during the unit's november drill. Simmons was promoted for referring a friend to the Kansas Army National Guard who later enlisted. Simmons, a senior at Cheylin High School in Bird City, will report for his initial active duty for training in June. He will be trained as a food service specialist. Simmons' promotion means he will earn over $200 more a month while on active duty.

S&T Communications wins awards for videos

By Sharon Corcoran

The Goodland Star-News

S&T Communications has won three awards for video production, two for commercials and one for a digital cable production, all produced in Goodland. The company took second and third place in one category.

S&T won second and third place in commercial production, second for a commercial for Kear's Quality Liquor and third for a commercial for Ritzman's, a furniture and gift store in Larned.

The company was third in digital cable production. The awards were presented at the Mid-America Cable Conference on Wednesday in Kansas City.

"The only one that beat us in commercial advertising," said Kim Newell, production manager for S&T, "was Joplin, Mo."

Cable One in Joplin is much bigger than S&T, she said, and has more places that advertise.

S&T produces about three commercials a day, Newell said. Some that run on its own cable system and some that run on other systems. The company also produces instruction videos.

Newell was the production manager for KBSL television for 20 years before joining S&T. Matt Wellbrock is S&T's producer/editor.

S&T competed against all the other cable systems in Kansas for the awards, Newell said, and the annual competition was judged by people from cable systems in another state.

Kansas can kill you.
