

Go, Jayhawks!

Maddie, 2, and Sammie, 6, granddaughters of Don and Judy Finley of Goodland, have been busy cheering the University of Kansas Jayhawks basketball team to victory during March Madness. The girls are daughters of Jake and Wendy (Finley) Powell of Lawrence. Their great-grandparents are Darold and Audrey Finley and Arlene Beneda, all of Goodland. The Jayhawks made the Sweet Sixteen, facing Southern Illinois Thursday.

4-H clubs have long tradition in area

4-H clubs have had a long tradition in Sherman County. Two such clubs, one established and one newly organized, were busy in the late winter of 1932 according to articles in The Goodland News-Republic.

GLENDALE 4-H CLUB

The Glendale Livewire 4-H Club met Friday evening, March 4, at the Mound schoolhouse. Roll call was answered by giving "Facts about Washington." There were 14 members, one leader and 17 visitors present.

After the business meeting and a short talk by Mr. Howard, county agent, about the health examination, the members each made a copy of the year's program.

The following program was then given under the leadership of Herald Tilison:

Talk by Mrs. Sandy — Putting Pep into Club Work; Health Demonstration by Lela Mae McPherson, Mary Ellison and Anna Marie Tilison; Reading from an article written by Mr. Rucker on Club Work in Sherman County — Mrs. Charles Hooper; Comic stunt song "The Old Singing School" by Dave Laughlin, Louis Kolsky and Mr. Ellison; Music Appreciation and songs led by the recreation leaders, Ada Sandy and Jessie Lee Allen.

Several games were played, and a cracker-eating contest by Dave Laughlin and Newt Tipton caused much merriment.

The next meeting will be at the home of Josephine Bergsma, April 1st.

Roll call will be "A Native Bird."

NEW 4-H CLUB

A group of parents and children gathered at Grace School Tuesday evening in Smoky Township for the purpose of organizing a new 4-H club.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, the meeting was called to order by the chairman of the meeting, Herman Darnauer.

Mr. Howard, county agent, gave a talk to the boys and girls on 4-H club work and its advantages to them and the community.

The enrollment cards were passed and the officers elected as follows: president, Doris Elliott; secretary, John Laughlin; vice-president, Fred Darnauer; club reporter, Jim Renner; boys leader, Elliott. This club will meet every fourth Wednesday of each month. A name for this organization has not yet been selected, as it will be voted on at the next meeting.

Religious education was also very important in the lives of youngsters and adults 75 years ago. A county-wide group was organized to oversee that activity.

ELECTED OFFICERS

Mrs. Earl Kirkpatrick President of Sunday Schools

The annual meeting of the Council of Religious Education of Sherman County met at the library Saturday and elected officers for the year. The council is comprised of the Sunday schools of the county.

The officers elected were: president, Mrs. Earl Kirkpatrick, Goodland; vice-president, O. L. Elliott, Goodland; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. T. H. Taggart, Goodland; supt. adult dept., Mrs. O. L. Elliott, Goodland; supt. young peoples dept., Miss Bernice Snowbarger, Ruleton; supt. children's dept., Mrs. Beulah Grant, Goodland; pres. District No. 1, Bert Robinson, Edson; pres. District No. 2, Earl Kirkpatrick, Goodland; and pres. District No. 3, S. W. Webster, Kanorado.

Several interesting neighborhood news items appeared in the "R.F.D. Rural" column, March 1932:

• There was a good crowd out to the coyote hunt Monday. Six coyotes were killed.

• Leo Huber fell off his pony Sunday. His saddle turned and hurt his shoulder. He was unable to be in school Monday.

• Donald Strait is hauling wheat to market.

• Miss Mabel Roulier has the mumps at this time.

• Theodore Roulier shipped his fat cattle Saturday. Mr. Roulier accompanied the cattle to market.

• Frank Trablack took dinner Friday at the Fred Gattshall home.

• C. Howell shelled corn for Ralph McDaniel the past week.

Double Wedding

Miss Fern Livengood and Norman C. Anderson and Miss Gladys Livengood and Ernest Bishop, all of Kanorado, were married in a double ceremony by Probate Judge Bessie M. Flick, Friday, Feb. 26, 1932.

Oats fill feed need when hay is lacking

With hay in short supply, many stockmen need a little extra forage this spring.

Oats fit our systems pretty well for a number of reasons.

It grows during cool spring weather when we are most likely to receive some rain and when soil moisture is used most efficiently to produce forage.

The window for planting is March 5 to 20 in our area.

In addition, seed is relatively cheap. The catch may be getting the seed. Sharp Brothers Seed and Ehmke Seed, both in Healy, may be the closest places to get it.

It is important make sure you are planting seed oats, not feed oats. Varieties for forage should be selected. Planting rate is 48 to 64 pounds per acre.

One of the advantages of oats is they can be utilized several ways. Grazing can likely begin in late April and early May.

Oat hay is ideal for young livestock if cut when oats just begin to head out. For stock cows, yield can be increased by about one-third if cutting is delayed until the oats are in the early milk stage.

In addition, oats in the milk to early dough stages make excellent silage. The amount of forage spring oats will produce can range from 0.5 to 3 tons of dry matter per acre, depending on growing conditions and soil fertility.

The quality of forage produced depends on the stage of maturity at the harvest. As maturity increases, quality declines rapidly.

With hay in short supply and a tight supply projected for the upcoming year, spring oats may be a good fit for your operation to help meet your forage needs.
