

Spring weddings of local couples held in 1932

Spring weddings of local young people appeared in the "Society" column of The Goodland News-Republic in 1932. Those couples would be celebrating their diamond anniversary this year.

Huff - Daniel Wedding
Miss Alice Huff, step-daughter of Mrs. Beulah Huff, of this city, and Mr. Joe Daniel of Leoti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Daniel Sr., were married at high noon Sunday at the Christian Church. The impressive ring ceremony was read by the Rev. L.S. Dudley. Beautiful baskets of spring flowers decorated the chancel rail. Miss Ethel Huff, sister to the bride, played the wedding march and the accompaniment for Miss Opal Tittle, who sang, "O Perfect Love," by H.P. Burleigh.

The bridal party made an enhancing picture as it came to the altar for the ceremony. The bride wore white lace with a beautiful veil of white and carried a large arm bouquet of calla lilies. Little Olive White carried the bride's veil. Mrs. Huff, who was her attendant, wore pink lace with accessories to match. Mr. Victor Follett was best man. Miss Tittle's dress was of pink taffeta, and Miss Huff was peach net.

Mrs. Daniel has grown to womanhood in Goodland and was prominent in the younger social set, taking an active part in church and community affairs. She has been engaged in teaching since graduating from high school. Mr. Daniel is the brother of Mrs. Ernest Miller, who lives south of Goodland. He has made his home in Leoti, and he and his bride will go there to live.

Following the wedding ceremony, a three-course dinner was served at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D.A. Tittle. Miss Vesta Kolacny, Miss Juanita Rhoads and Miss Etta McNeely served the dinner. Guests other than members of the bride's immediate family were the Rev. and Mrs. Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Daniel Sr., Miss Albie Daniel, Miss Julia Daniel and Miss Emma Daniel, all of Leoti; Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kolacny, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller, Olive White, Victor Follett, Emmon Robbins and Wilbur White.

Tagtmeyer - Darnauer Wedding
Miss Freda Tagtmeyer, daughter of Mrs. Ricka Tagtmeyer, and Herman Darnauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Darnauer, were united in marriage at the Lutheran Church Thursday. The beautiful ring ceremony was used by the Rev. Hayer of Bird City. Mrs. Catherine Ochsner, sister of the bride, played the wedding march. Miss Louise Tagtmeyer and Fred Darnauer were the attendants and Miss Rose Darnauer was the bridesmaid. Herman Tagtmeyer acted as the best man. Levina Mae Felzien, niece of the bride, acted as veil bearer.

Edwyn Ochsner and Edmynd Ochsner were ushers. Following a solo, "O Perfect Love," by Miss Rose Darnauer, the ceremony was performed.

A reception and wedding dinner were given at the home of the bride's mother following the ceremony. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Darnauer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fixsen and children, Mr. and Mrs. George Felzien and children, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fixsen and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Ochsner, Mr. and Mrs. Edmynd Ochsner and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gattshall, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Tagtmeyer and children, Misses Rose and Louise Darnauer, Miss Roberta Snowbarger, Miss Helen Darnauer, George Nightingale, Lorenz Eklund and Raymond Downing.

After a short trip to Stover, Mo., and Nebraska, the young couple will be at home on their farm 19 miles south of Goodland.

Other items in the "Society" column (May 1932) covered many social gatherings and club meetings in and around Goodland. One such organization had a "surprise" meeting for their outgoing president.

Honors B. & P.W. President
Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club planned and carried out a successful surprise dinner for their retiring president, Mrs. Bessie Toelkes, Monday evening. A covered dish supper was taken to her home as she arrived from her work in the evening. Thirty-eight members and guests were present. The club presented Mrs. Toelkes with a beautiful electric iron in appreciation of her services as president during the past two years. Miss Ada Moon, Miss Etta Cole, Miss Ruth Camp and Mrs. Evelyn Wilson were guests.

A sure sign of impending summer and warm weather, the following appeared on the "Society" page as well. Furs, of course, were very stylish in the '30s.

Q. - Should a Fur Coat Be Put in Cold Storage?

A. - The biological survey advises that the safest and most satisfactory way to care for a fur coat is to have it sent to cold storage. There are methods of storing furs by means of wrapping in airtight containers and by the use of naphthalene, pyrethrum powder and other methods such as fumigation. While the above are effective, the life of the coat will be lengthened by placing in a cool temperature because of the fact that no matter how well a skin is cured, there is a certain amount of decomposition going on. When subjected to the cold, this process is retarded.

Having no empathy could be sign of illness

Individuals who show little or no empathy for others and who continually disregard and violate the rights of others have what is described in the mental health field as an antisocial personality disorder.

These individuals tend to be very impulsive in their actions and repeatedly lie. Their behavior is often reckless with little regard for their own safety, and they do not think about possible consequences for themselves or others.

With this combination of traits, such individuals are sometimes described as lacking a moral conscience; this disorder is the mental illness most closely linked to criminal behavior.

Studies estimate that about 3 percent of adults in the United States have antisocial personality disorder, and it is about four times more common in males than females. It is likely the majority of those in prison for serious crimes or repeat offenses have this disorder.

Antisocial personality traits may be apparent in childhood, but the diagnosed disorder is not applicable under age 18. Defiance and rebellion are common in adolescents and can be a major challenge for parents, schools and communities.

But even though these behaviors are strongly associated with adolescents, the majority of teenagers do not develop antisocial personalities. They do grow up to be wise and mature adults with a strong moral conscience and empathy for those less fortunate.

Nevertheless, there are some behaviors that should concern parents, such as a teenager who frequently skips school or runs away from home. A child of any age who deliberately destroys property, sets fires or displays physical cruelty to animals or people should be of serious concern, and parents need to consult with a mental health professional for help in understanding and dealing with these problems.

As with many behavior problems, early treatment is essential. As adults, these kinds of serious, negative behaviors become much more difficult to treat successfully in a mental health setting.
