

Homecoming royalty

Goodland cheerleaders did a special routine for the crowd during the halftime of the homecoming game on Friday. The cheerleaders were wearing special uniforms from past years, which were loaned to them by former Goodland High School cheer squad members.

Photos by Tom Betz/The Goodland Star-News

Homecoming Queen Amanda Amthor and King Tanner Smith were crowned at halftime of the Cowboys game against the Hays High Indians on Friday at Cowboys Stadium.

Senior parents had a special cheerleader routine of their own and used floor jacks to lift the "girls."

The annual dance by the Jumpin Juniors was a hit both at the homecoming rally on Thursday and at halftime on Friday.