The seventh and eighth graders of Grant Junior High were recognized for their efforts at taking the state assessment tests last year with a banner from the state for the meeting the state requirements in seventh grade reading and mathematics and eighth grade reading.

The assessments are part of the adequate yearly progress that is required by the federal No Child Left Behind law.

Each year the percent of students that needs to meet proficient or above goes up.

Junior High Principal Steve Raymer said he was really proud of the students for meeting the state goal.

To meet the goal for the 2007-8 school year 75.6 percent of the students must meet the reading goal and 73.4 percent the math goal.
