County waives fees for cleanup

to Curt Way, public works manager, about the help.

“We don’t have much for trucks,” Tiede said. “We usually have a loader and put on a couple of extra guys at the transfer station that day.”

Thomas said he thought the city furnished most of the trucks.

Tiede said he felt the cleanup effort was helping, and he was glad the Chamber was continuing the effort.

Nelson said she would let people know the details of the voucher plan after talking to Way. She said people can call her at (785) 899-7130 or (785) 821-4694 to ask about the cleanup, to volunteer to help or to get a voucher.
