

Freshman Brianna White warmed up for Regional Piano Contest at Hays.

Student musicians compete, win honors

Goodland High School Senior Andrew Shores, and Junior Brendan Fulcher performed in the Kansas Music Educators Honor Band for class 1-4 A schools at the state convention in Wichita on Saturday, Feb. 26. The band included one hundred and two instrumentalists from sophomore through senior classes of schools throughout Kansas. Shores played tuba and Fulcher played trumpet. They were selected through a live audition which took place in January in Salina. Shores was recognized at the concert for participating all three years in this state level band. He also received a $500 scholarship from the organization. The scholarship was presented to Shores by Kansas Music Educators Association President Mike Quilling, current band instructor at Deerfield and former Goodland band director. Shores will use the scholarship as a music education major at Fort Hays State University. Both are students of Goodland High School band director Deanne Langness.

Four Goodland High School students participated in the Kansas State High School Activities Association Regional Piano Contest at Fort Hays State University on Saturday, Feb. 5. Approximately forty students from northwest Kansas participated at this contest. Musicians participating were: Senior Shores, Junior Jessica Klemm and Freshmen Berkley and Brianna White. Shores, Klemm and Berkley White received a I rating which entitled them to compete at the state level.

The State Piano Festival was hosted by Tabor College in Hillsboro on Saturday, Feb. 19. Shores and Klemm received I ratings and Berkley White a II. Berkley White and Klemm were competing at the high school level for the first time. Shores has competed in the regional piano contest for the past four years and at the state level for the past three years. Piano teachers of these students are GERALYN PARKER, Nancy Shores and Pat Ziegelmeier of Colby.
